Semiotics in Mathematics Education Norma Presmeg, Luis Radford, Wolff-Michael Roth, Gert Kadunz, 2016-04-11. This volume discusses semiotics in mathematics education as an activity with a formal sign system in which each sign represents something else. Theories presented by Saussure, Peirce, Vygotsky, and other writers on semiotics are summarized in their relevance to the teaching and learning of mathematics. The significance of signs for mathematics education lies in their ubiquitous use in every branch of mathematics. Such use involves seeing the general in the particular, a process that is not always clear to learners. Therefore, in several traditional frameworks, semiotics has the potential to serve as a powerful conceptual lens in investigating diverse topics in mathematics education research. Topics that are implicated include but are not limited to the birth of signs, embodiment, gestures, and artifacts, segmentation and communicative fields, cultural mediation, social semiotics, linguistic theories, chains of signification, semiotic bundles, relationships among various sign systems, intersubjectivity, diagrammatic and inferential reasoning, and semiotics as the focus of innovative learning and teaching materials.

Eyes Everywhere Aaron Doyle, Randy Lippert, David Lyon, 2013-03-01. In many countries, camera surveillance has become commonplace, and ordinary citizens and consumers are increasingly aware that they are under surveillance in everyday life. Camera surveillance is typically perceived as the archetype of contemporary surveillance technologies and processes. While there is sometimes fierce debate about their introduction, many others take the cameras for granted or even applaud their deployment. Yet what the presence of surveillance cameras actually achieves is still very much in question. International evidence shows that they have very little effect in deterring crime and in making people feel safer, but they do serve to place certain groups under greater official scrutiny and to extend the reach of today's surveillance society. Eyes Everywhere provides the first international perspective on the development of camera surveillance. It scrutinizes the quiet but massive expansion of camera surveillance around the world in recent years focusing especially on Canada, the UK and the USA but also including less debated but important contexts such as Brazil, China, Japan, Mexico, South Africa and Turkey. Containing both broad overviews and illuminating case studies including cameras in taxi cabs and at mega events such as the Olympics, the book offers a valuable oversight on the status of camera surveillance in the second decade of the twenty-first century. The book will be fascinating reading for students and scholars of camera surveillance as well as policy makers and practitioners from the police, chambers of commerce, private security firms and privacy and data protection agencies.

Expanding the Frontiers of Design Gabriela Goldschmidt, Ezri Tarazi, 2023-10-31. Design Thinking, a method widely used in design business and management, has changed the landscape of contemporary design. Whereas in the past non-designers were called upon to serve as external consultants ad hoc in an effort to promote creativity and innovation, most design teams now consist of a mix of designers and other professionals. The impact of this development on the design landscape in recent years is so far without thorough investigation and analysis of its various influences. This book comprises an edited collection of selected papers from the 13th Design Thinking Research Symposium (DTRS13) which offers an exploration of Design Thinking from theoretical, practical and pedagogical perspectives as well as critical analysis of the design process. The book is arranged in five parts as follows: Part 1 Thinking about design; Part 2 Design thinking in the studio; Part 3 Design thinking in practice and professional training; Part 4 Design teams of diverse backgrounds: Interdisciplinary projects; Part 5 Design and nature: visual representation. Providing a comprehensive source for new perspectives on design and Design Thinking, Expanding the Frontiers of Design is ideal for designers and design academics of all disciplines wishing to strengthen and innovate their practice as well as industry leaders who seek to consolidate their business strategies and evolve their work.

Self-Representation in an Expanded Field Ace Lehner, 2021-05-31. Defined as a self-image made with a hand-held mobile device and shared via social media platforms, the selfie has facilitated self-imaging becoming a ubiquitous part of globally networked contemporary life. Beyond this, selfies have facilitated a diversity of image-making practices and enabled otherwise representationally marginalized constituencies to insert self-representations into visual culture. In the Western European and North American art historical context, self-portraiture has been somewhat rigidly, albeit obliquely, defined and selfies have facilitated a shift regarding who literally holds the power to self image Like self portraits not all selfies are inherently aesthetically or conceptually rigorous or avant guard But as this project aims to do address via a variety of interdisciplinary approaches selfies have irreversibly impacted visual culture contemporary art and portraiture in particular Selfies propose new modes of self imaging forward emerging aesthetics and challenge established methods they prove that as scholars and image makers it is necessary to adapt and innovate in order to contend with the most current form of self representation to date The essays gathered herein will reveal that in our current moment it is necessary and advantageous to consider the merits and interventions of selfies and self portraiture in an expanded field of self representations We invite authors to take interdisciplinary global perspectives to investigate various sub genres aesthetic practices and lineages in which selfies intervene to enrich the discourse on self representation in the expanded field today Handbook of Research on Aestheticization of Violence, Horror, and Power Erdem, M.
