Visualization and Mathematics III Hans-Christian Hege, Konrad Polthier, 2013-11-11 Mathematical Visualization aims at an abstract framework for fundamental objects appearing in visualization and at the application of the manifold visualization techniques to problems in geometry topology and numerical mathematics The articles in this volume report on new research results in this field on the development of software and educational material and on mathematical applications The book grew out of the third international workshop Visualization and Mathematics which was held from May 22 25 2002 in Berlin Germany The workshop was funded by the DFG Sonderforschungsbereich 288 Differential Geometry and Quantum Physics at Technische Universität Berlin and supported by the Zuse Institute Berlin ZIB and the DFG research center Mathematics for Key Technologies FZT 86 in Berlin Five keynote lectures eight invited presentations and several contributed talks created a stimulating atmosphere with many scientific discussions The themes of this book cover important recent developments in the following fields Geometry and Combinatorics of Meshes Discrete Vector Fields and Topology Geometric Modelling Image Based Visualization Software Environments and Applications Education and Communication We hope that the research articles of this book will stimulate the readers own work and will further strengthen the development of the field of Mathematical Visualization VI Preface We appreciate the thorough work of the authors and reviewers on each of the individual articles and we thank you all

Topology-based Methods in Visualization Helwig Hauser, Hans Hagen, Holger Theisel, 2007-05-24 Enabling insight into large and complex datasets is a prevalent theme in visualization research for which different approaches are pursued Topology based methods are built on the idea of abstracting characteristic structures such as the topological skeleton from the data and to construct the visualizations accordingly There are currently new demands for and renewed interest in topology based visualization solutions This book presents 13 peer reviewed papers as written results from the 2005 workshop Topology Based Methods in Visualization that was initiated to enable additional stimulation in this field It contains a longer chapter dedicated to a survey of the state of the art as well as a great deal of original work by leading experts that has not been published before spanning both theory and applications It captures key concepts and novel ideas and serves as an overview of current trends in topology based visualization research

Topological Methods in Data Analysis and Visualization II Ronald Peikert, Helwig Hauser, Hamish Carr, Raphael Fuchs, 2012-01-10 When scientists analyze datasets in a search for underlying phenomena patterns or causal factors their first step is often an automatic or semi automatic search for structures in the data Of these feature extraction methods topological ones stand out due to their solid mathematical foundation Topologically defined structures as found in scalar vector and tensor fields have proven their merit in a wide range of scientific domains and scientists have found them to be revealing in subjects such as physics engineering and medicine Full of state of the art research and contemporary hot topics in the subject this volume is a selection of peer reviewed papers originally presented at the fourth Workshop on Topology Based Methods in Data Analysis and Visualization TopoInVis 2011 held in Zurich Switzerland The workshop brought together many of the leading lights in the field for a mixture of formal presentations and discussion One topic currently generating a great deal of interest and explored in several chapters here is the search for topological structures in time dependent flows and their relationship with Lagrangian coherent structures Contributors also focus on discrete topologies of scalar and vector fields and on persistence based simplification among other issues of note The new research results included in this volume relate to all three key areas in data analysis theory algorithms and applications    Technical Documentary Report PRL-TDR United States.
