Gupta, T. Tsuchiya, 1991-05-13 This two volume work surveys the entire range of general aspects of chromosome research on plants This first volume is divided into two sections Section A consists of 11 chapters covering the entire range of general aspects of chromosome research in plants including a chapter on genetic engineering in crop improvement Section B is devoted to cytogenetics of cereals and millets wheat rye barley triticale oats maize rice pearl millet and minor millets More than one chapter is devoted to the same crop to give a detailed treatment of chromosome research including molecular biology in these crops The second volume deals with cytogenetics of plant materials including legumes vegetable and oil crops sugar crops forage crops fibre crops medicinal crops and ornamentals This work will be useful both as a reference work and a teaching aid to satisfy a wide range of workers Every chapter has been written by an expert who has been involved in chromosome research on a particular plant material for many years The Descendants of John Grant and Mary Sabeen George Allen Grant M.A., 2023-12-11 In Nova Scotia the focus of study about Scottish settlers including the Grants has been on the eastern counties of the province and on Cape Breton Island In the United States when Grants are mentioned a significant concern seems to be to find a genealogical or DNA link to Ulysses Grant No one has seriously examined and written about the Grant families of southwestern Nova Scotia That leaves a space for me to act in and to develop a narrative history of a family founded in the soil strengthened by the forest and challenged by the sea environments that comprise the fundamental essence of Nova Scotia And so my passion has been to tell the story of my family and their relatives in southwestern Nova Scotia and to follow the paths of many of them to New England especially to Massachusetts This study will fulfill an implicit task left to me by my Aunt Ruth Dexter That is the essence of why I have spent so much of my retirement on this task But there is more to come as I follow suggestive clues left by my ancestors or seek to overcome brick walls that stump every genealogist from time to time When I began this project my aim was simply To collate and present a family history of the line descending from John Grant and Mary Sabeen to myself If I had stayed within that framework this book would have been much shorter and less interesting As it turns out there are many fascinating aspects to our story Not only will you read about the hard working and courageous children of John and Mary but you will follow them and their offspring as they find love and marriage sometimes with close or distant cousins You will ride or sail with them as they migrate within Nova Scotia and outward to New England You will wonder at their expressions of faith and sense their hidden internal conflict as they make religious choices based on factors we can only imagine spirituality simplicity availability or energetic missionaries reflected in obituaries burial sites or their answers to census questions You will share their sorrow at the deaths of loved ones through accident disease suicide loss at sea or in the service of their country in war particularly in World War I You will learn of their varied occupations trades and professions from farming fishing and forestry to shoemaking carpentry and sailing nursing and teaching You will join them as they strive to become master mariners volunteer in their churches train young women with the YWCA in China or succor the sick and wounded with the Red Cross in Siberia follow them south to Boston and the Caribbean east to Europe and across the Pacific to Asia Only then you will come to understand why at its core my passion has been to be the voice of my direct ancestors and extended family within a defined framework of time and place to record their activities where sources allow in essence to be the story they could not write

Kinship Matters Fatemeh Ebtehaj, Bridget Lindley, Martin Richards, 2006-09-15 This book is the fifth in the Cambridge Socio Legal Group series and it concerns the evolving notions and practices of kinship in contemporary Britain and the interrelationship of kinship law and social policy Assembling contributions from scholars in a range of disciplines it examines social legal cultural and psychological questions related to kinship Rising rates of divorce and of alternative modes of partnership have raised questions about the care and well being of children while increasing longevity and mobility together with lower birth rates and changes in our economic circumstances have led to a reconsideration of duties and responsibilities towards the care of elderly people In addition globalisation trends and international flows of migrants and refugees have confronted us with alternative constructions of kinship and with the challenges of maintaining kinship ties transnationally Finally new developments in genetics research and the growing use of assisted reproductive technologies may raise questions about our notions of kinship and of kin rights and responsibilities The book explores these changes from various perspectives and draws on theoretical and empirical data to describe practices of kinship in contemporary Britain
