Cybermedia Carol Vernallis, Holly Rogers, Jonathan Leal, Selmin Kara, 2021-10-21 We are experiencing a time when digital technologies and advances in artificial intelligence, robotics, and big data are redefining what it means to be human. How do these advancements affect contemporary media and music? This collection traces how media with a focus on sound and image engages with these new technologies. It bridges the gap between science and the humanities by pairing humanists' close readings of contemporary media with scientists' discussions of the science and math that inform them. This text includes contributions by established and emerging scholars performing across the aisle: research on new technologies exploring topics such as facial and gait recognition, EEG, and audiovisual materials; surveillance and sound and images in relation to questions of sexual identity, race, ethnicity, disability, and class; and includes examples from a range of films and TV shows including Blade Runner, Black Mirror, Mr. Robot, Morgan, Ex Machina, and Westworld. Through a variety of critical, theoretical, proprioceptive, and speculative lenses, the collection facilitates interdisciplinary thinking and collaboration and provides readers with ways of responding to these new technologies.

Remembering the Future through Cinematic Symbols Amar Singh, 2024-12-15 This book explores the making of futuristic memory through cinematic symbols relating to future relationships between humans and artificial intelligence (AI). Amar Singh examines how audiences are being prepared for possible future scenarios where they may find themselves entangled with intelligent objects through developing relationships with them and if so, how they might react when confronted by an intelligent species. Through this research, Singh focuses on both the complications and flaws of science-fiction depictions of AI, as well as more abstract works that while not directly connected, contribute to a better understanding of these emerging technologies. Scholars of film, media, memory, posthuman, transhuman, and cultural studies will find particular value in this book, along with those focusing on literary and critical theory, arts and aesthetics, political sociology, and advanced research in AI.

Two Eagles Ricardo Sheffield, 2023-04-19 In the middle of the Sonoran Desert, two eagles meet face to face. One has flown from the north, the other from the south. After a long journey, they confront each other in a vast territory that unites two great countries that, like the eagles, are not as different as they seem. Two hundred years after the beginning of diplomatic relations between Mexico and the United States, Ricardo Sheffield takes a look at the shared history of both nations. He considers questions such as: What was life like for the Native Americans? When did some decide to follow an unknown path south, leaving others to stay behind? What unites the lives of Mexicans with those living in the United States of America? What have been the moments of greatest tension between the two countries? With a distinctive voice full of irony, humor, and popular sayings, the author traces the history of these two great powers from their common beginnings with the Clovis culture hunting mammoths to the civil wars of both countries, the promulgation of their respective constitutions, and their struggles to abolish slavery.
