The Stone Angel Phoenix Fiction:

The Stone Angel Margaret Laurence, 2015-07-22 The Stone Angel The Diviners and A Bird in the House are three of the five books in Margaret Laurence's renowned Manawaka series named for the small Canadian prairie town in which they take place. Each of these books is narrated by a strong woman growing up in the town and struggling with physical and emotional isolation. In The Stone Angel Hagar Shipley, age ninety, tells the story of her life and in doing so tries to come to terms with how the very qualities which sustained her have deprived her of joy. Mingling past and present, she maintains pride in the face of senility while recalling the life she led as a rebellious young bride and later as a grieving mother. Laurence gives us in Hagar a woman who is funny, infuriating, and heartbreakingly poignant. This is a revelation, not impersonation. The effect of such skilled use of language is to lead the reader towards the self-recognition that Hagar misses. Robertson Davies, New York Times. It is Laurence's admirable achievement to strike with an equally sure touch the peculiar note and the universal she gives us a portrait of a remarkable character and at the same time the picture of old age itself with the pain, the weariness, the terror, the impotent angers and physical mishaps, the realization that others are waiting and wishing for an end. Honor Tracy, The New Republic. Miss Laurence is the best fiction writer in the Dominion and one of the best in the hemisphere. Atlantic. Laurence demonstrates in The Stone Angel that she has a true novelist's gift for catching a character in mid-passion and life at full flood. As Hagar Shipley daydreams and chatters and lurches through the novel, she traces one of the most convincing and the most touching portraits of an unregenerate sinner declining into senility since Sara Monday went to her reward in Joyce Cary's The Horse's Mouth. Time. Laurence's triumph is in her evocation of Hagar at ninety. We sympathize with her in her resistance to being moved to a nursing home, in her preposterous flight, in her impatience in the hospital. Battered, depleted, suffering, she rages with her last breath against the dying of the light. The Stone Angel is a fine novel, admirably written and sustained by unfailing insight. Granville Hicks, Saturday Review. The Stone Angel is a good book because Mrs. Laurence avoids sentimentality and condescension. Hagar Shipley is still passionately involved in the puzzle of her own nature. Laurence's imaginative tact is strikingly at work for surely this is what it feels like to be old. Paul Pickrel, Harper's. Bowker's Guide to Characters in Fiction 2007, 2008-02. Secret Understandings Morris Philipson, 2000-10. Secret Understandings is a vibrant and richly textured portrait of Shelagh Jackman, a book illustrator who learns to cultivate the loving and complex relationships in her life while struggling to be true to her own best self even when calamity puts her to the ultimate test and triumph. Six Days in Marapore Paul Scott, 2005-04-15. Joe MacKendrick who has lived in the shadow of his father's authority and his brother Dwight's seniority is now in Marapore looking for the woman Dwight had loved before his death in action. There he is caught in the ferment of the new freedom which has not forgotten the bitterness of its old bondage and as the pukka people are going home there are those who have no home to go to. Among them are Tom Gower who had devoted his life to the natives who have now turned against him and Dorothy his wife whom Dwight had loved whose hatred of her husband feeds on the concealment of her chi chi half caste blood A native demonstration sets fire to Gower s model village a white man kills in fear and is killed in return and MacKendrick offers Dorothy the chance his brother had refused her only to find that the old taboos of exclusion and repudiation have left her with nothing to give any man Provided by publisher      Couplings Peter Schneider,1998-11 Eduard Hoffman is a microbiologist with an interest in relationships He believes he s found a strain of separation virus raging in West Berlin in 1983 which terminates every relationship within three years 167 days and 2 hours As Eduard attempts to evade the virus he tangles with Germany s Nazi guilt memories of his father a wayward mouse and other threats to his identity in a divided country A little Don Giovanni a little caf sociology a little laboratory science a little Berlin wit it s a pleasant mix Suzanne Ruta New York Times Book Review With its poignant valedictory to its protagonists waning youth and its rueful placing of them in the firing line of history Couplings achieves a balance of light and dark that is utterly persuasive Michael Upchurch San Francisco Chronicle Book Review      The Manawaka World of Margaret Laurence Clara Thomas,1976      The Publishers Weekly ,1929
