Arabic Exile Literature in Europe Johanna Sellman, 2022-10-04 Since the 1990s Arabic exile literature in Europe has increasingly become a literature written from the perspective of refugees asylum seekers undocumented migrants and others who are situated outside normatively defined citizenship In this book Johanna Sellman analyses the changing aesthetic and political dimensions of Arabic exile literature and demonstrates how frameworks such as east west cultural encounters political commitment and modernist understandings of exile which were dominant in 20th century Arabic exile literature have been giving way to writing that explores the dynamics of forced migration and the liminal spaces of borders and borderlands

Masculine Identity in the Fiction of the Arab East since 1967 Samira Aghacy, 2009-12-08 This book offers an exploration of masculinity in the literature of the Arab East Lebanon Jordan Palestine Syria and Iraq in the context of a specific set of anxieties about gender roles and sexuality in Arab societies While gender studies in the area have focused primarily on the situation of women the treatment of Arab men as gendered subjects has fallen behind Samira Aghacy's rich analysis presents gender relations not within a fixed biological mold but rather as a complex phenomenon fraught with ambivalence and operating within particular historical and geopolitical settings Through a series of close readings of twenty contemporary Arabic novels Aghacy presents a mosaic of masculinities that challenges the generally held view of an essentialized archetypal Arab man and that mirrors a contested vision of manliness where men figure in diverse sociocultural environments This groundbreaking work reveals the volatile nature of masculinity and its inextricability from femininity

Arabic Literature for the Classroom Mushin al-Musawi, 2017-04-21 This book presents theoretical and methodical cultural concerns in teaching literatures from non American cultures along with issues of cross cultural communication cultural competency and translation Covering topics such as the 1001 Nights Maqamat Arabic poetry women's writing classical poetics issues of gender race and class North African concerns language acquisition through literature Arab spring writing women's correspondence issues connected with the so called nahdah revival movement in the 19th century and many others the book provides perspectives and topics that serve in both the planning of new courses and accommodation to already existing programs
