Why We Build Rowan Moore:

Why We Build Rowan Moore, 2014-09-02 We are living in one of the most dramatic periods in modern architectural history a time when cityscapes are being redrawn on a yearly basis architects are testing the very idea of what a building is and whole cities are invented overnight In this bold and wide ranging new work Rowan Moore former director of the Architecture Foundation now a leading architecture critic explores the reasons behind these changes in our built environment and how they change the way we live in the world Provocative and personal iconoclastic and transforming Why We Build is that rarest of things a book about architecture that is also on every page a book about people those chosen few who design buildings and the rest of us who use them every day

Why We Build Rowan Moore, 2013-08-20 In an era of brash expensive provocative new buildings a prominent critic argues that emotions hope power sex our changing relationship to the idea of home are the most powerful force behind architecture yesterday and especially today We are living in one of the most dramatic periods in modern architectural history a time when cityscapes are being redrawn on a yearly basis architects are testing the very idea of what a building is and whole cities are being invented overnight both here in the United States and in exotic locations around the world In this bold and wide ranging new work Rowan Moore former director of the Architecture Foundation now a leading architecture critic explores the reasons behind these changes in our built environment and how they in turn are changing the way we live in the world Taking as his starting point dramatic examples such as the High Line in New York City and the outrageous island experiment of Dubai Moore then reaches far and wide back in time to explore the Covent Garden brothels of eighteenth century London and the fetishistic minimalism of Adolf Loos across the world to assess a software magnate s grandiose mansion in Atlanta and Daniel Libeskind s failed design for the World Trade Center site and finally to the deeply naturalistic work of Lina Bo Bardi whom he celebrates as the most underrated architect of the modern era Provocative and personal iconoclastic and transforming Why We Build is that rarest of things a book about architecture that is also on every page a book about people those chosen few who design buildings and the rest of us who use them every day

Anatomy of a Building Rowan Moore, 2014-09-02 The Royal College of Physicians celebrates its 500th anniversary in 2018 and to observe this landmark is publishing this series of ten books Each of the books focuses on fifty themed elements that have contributed to making the RCP what it is today together adding up to 500 reflections on 500 years Some of the people ideas objects and manuscripts featured are directly connected to the College while others have had an influence that can still be felt in its work Written exactly fifty years after the opening of the building in 1964 this first book in the series Anatomy of a Building is a meditation on the architecture of the college focusing particularly on its current home a Grade 1 listed building designed by Denys Lasdun

Property Rowan Moore, 2023-10-31 A powerful examination of how property shaped the modern world and why it now threatens the freedoms and stability it was meant to sustain Property carries a great promise that it will make you rich and set you free But it is also a weapon an agent of displacement and exploitation the currency of kleptocrats and oligarchs In Britain it has led to a new class division between those who own and those who don't Property is a vivid far reaching analysis of our concept of property ownership from 16th century enclosures to the present day It tells powerful stories of life in the developer led boomtown of Gurgaon in India of the struggles to form Black communities in Missouri and Georgia of a giant experiment in co operative living in the Bronx of the impacts of Margaret Thatcher's property owning democracy Above all Property asks how we have come to view our homes as investments and it offers hope for how things could be better with reform that might enable the social wealth of property to be returned to society

Monuments of Diverse Heritage in Early America Barry L. Stiefel, 2025-10-01 Monuments of Diverse Heritage in Early America Placemaking and Preservation by Black Indigenous and Jewish Peoples explores a more inclusive history of preserving public historic sites At a time when some Americans have embraced white nationalism in response to unfolding demographic changes and others celebrate individual identities over all else an inclusive tolerant and unifying historical vision is sorely needed While past preservation efforts sometimes resulted in exclusionary forms of historical inspiration that need not be the case in the future Bringing greater attention to the diverse heritage of the United States will not only help dismantle the lingering remnants of exclusionary and elitist narratives but also celebrate a pluralistic and diverse past and present An inclusive empowering history can provide social cohesion while allowing room for individual groups to have authority over their pasts and representation in public side by side with one another

Awaiting the King (Cultural Liturgies Book #3) James K. A. Smith, 2017-11-07 In this culmination of his widely read and highly acclaimed Cultural Liturgies project James K A Smith examines politics through the lens of liturgy What if he asks citizens are not only thinkers or believers but also lovers Smith explores how our analysis of political institutions would look different if we viewed them as incubators of love shaping practices not merely governing us but forming what we love How would our political engagement change if we weren't simply looking for permission to express our views in the political sphere but actually hoped to shape the ethos of a nation a state or a municipality to foster a way of life that bends toward shalom This book offers a well rounded public theology as an alternative to contemporary debates about politics Smith explores the religious nature of politics and the political nature of Christian worship sketching how the worship of the church propels us to be invested in forging the common good This book creatively merges theological and philosophical reflection with illustrations from film novels and music and includes helpful exposition and contemporary commentary on key figures in political theology

The Temporality of Building Yun Gao, Nicholas Temple, Jing Xiao, 2025-03-31 This book examines the role that time plays in the life of buildings adopting a comparative study of this influence between European and Chinese traditions Whilst issues of time in architecture have attracted increasing interest by academics in the West challenging the dominant modernist precepts of space there is little understanding of the subject in China and how these compare to historical and contemporary perspectives in Europe A guiding premise of the investigation is that notions of building time require insight into how cultural habits commingle with natural rhythms or what David Leatherbarrow calls concurrency Rather than examining specific buildings the first three chapters apply three key themes language ritual and heritage as cultural lenses to reveal differences and similarities between the two traditions Through these lenses buildings interiors and their exterior spaces churches cathedrals temples palaces gardens and courtyard houses are explored to demonstrate how building time involves particular situations settings and their correlating relationships to past traditions In the final chapter we consider notions of time in the context of contemporary buildings in Europe and China drawing on the earlier historical investigations and addressing globalising influences This book would be of interest to architects architectural theorists historians philosophers sociologists and anthropologists

House and Home Thomas Barrie, 2017-03-16 House and home are words routinely used to describe where and how one lives This book challenges predominant definitions and argues that domesticity fundamentally satisfies the human need to create and inhabit a defined place in the world Consequently house and home have performed numerous cultural and ontological roles and have been assiduously represented in scripture literature art and philosophy This book presents how the search for home in an unpredictable world led people to create myths about the origins of architecture houses for their gods and house tombs for eternal life Turning to more recent topics it discusses how writers often used simple huts as a means to address the essentials of existence modernist architects envisioned the capacity of house and home to improve society and the suburban house was positioned as a superior setting for culture and family Throughout the book house and home are critically examined to illustrate the perennial role and capacity of architecture to articulate the human condition position it more meaningfully in the world and assist in our collective homecoming

Play Among Books Miro Roman, Alice_ch3n81, 2021-12-06 How does coding change the way we think about architecture This question opens up an important research perspective In this book Miro Roman and his AI Alice_ch3n81 develop a playful scenario in which they propose coding as the new literacy of information They convey knowledge in the form of a project model that links the fields of architecture and information through two interwoven narrative strands in an infinite flow of real books Focusing on the intersection of information technology and architectural formulation the authors create an evolving intellectual reflection on digital architecture and computer science

Modern Buildings in Britain Owen Hatherley, 2022-04-07 The definitive illustrated guide to modern British architecture from one of the most acclaimed critics at work today Modernism is now a century old and its consequences are all around us built into our everyday lived environments Its place in Britain's history is fiercely contested and its role in our future is the subject of ongoing controversy but modernist buildings have undoubtedly changed our cities politics and identity forever In Modern Buildings in Britain Owen Hatherley applauds the ambition and explores the significance of this most divisive of architectures travelling from Aberystwyth to Aberdeen from St Ives to Shetland in search of our most important and distinctive modern buildings Drawing on hundreds of examples we learn how the concrete of Brutalism embodies post war civic principles how corporate values were expressed in the glass facades of the International Style and why Ecomodernist experimentation is often consigned to the geographic fringes As Hatherley considers the social political and cultural value of these structures a number of which are threatened by demolition two linked questions emerge what happens to a building after it has been lived in and what becomes of an idea when its time has passed With more than six hundred pages of trenchantly opinionated often witty analysis and with three hundred photographs in duotone and colour Modern Buildings in Britain is a landmark contribution to the history of British architecture 100 20th-Century Buildings Twentieth Century Society, 2024-06-06 A stylish celebration of some of the greatest buildings in Britain from the 20th century and beyond by the country's leading organisation for the protection of 20th century architecture This fascinating book showcases 100 standout buildings from 1914 onwards representing the broad variety of 20th century British architecture The structures celebrated in this book include the Royal Festival Hall the Hepworth Gallery Preston Bus Station Battersea Power Station the Barbican Estate the Aquatics Centre and many more The glorious photography in 100 20th Century Buildings is accompanied by insightful text from a range of expert architectural writers and enthusiasts including Alan Powers Owen Hatherley and Rowan Moore along with several longer essays on different aspects of the 20th century built environment the late Gavin Stamp on the inter war decades the much missed Elain Harwood on post war architecture and Timothy Brittain Catlin on postmodernism From factories to art galleries churches to health centres office blocks to individual private dwellings this book provides a captivating overview of the 20th century built environment Prospect, 2010 Slow Burn City Rowan Moore, 2016-03-10 With a new introduction for the paperback London is a supreme achievement of civilization It offers fulfilments of body and soul encourages discovery and invention It is a place of freedom multiplicity and co existence It is a Liberal city which means it stands for values now in peril London has also become its own worst enemy testing to destruction the idea that the free market alone can build a city a fantastical wealth machine that denies too many of its citizens a decent home or living In this thought provoking fearless funny and subversive book Rowan Moore shows how London's strength depends on the creative and mutual interplay of three forces people business and state To find responses to the challenges of the twenty first century London must rediscover its genius for popular action and bold public intervention The global city above all others London is the best place to understand the way the world's cities are changing It could also be in the shape of a living churning city of more than eight million people the most powerful counter argument to the extremist politics of the present The Architects' Journal, 2002 Country Life, 1990 RIBA Journal, 2006 Bulletin Los Angeles city teachers club, 1930 AA Files, 2007 Ground Control Anna Minton, 2009 Reveals the untested urban planning that transforms not only our cities but the nature of public space of citizenship and of trust This book argues for an alternative continental approach that celebrates shared space The Southern Architect and Building News, 1908
