

Any representation of people and politics is motivated by both contextual and personal responses to ideas events and situations

Composers' representations of people and politics are shaped by both contextual and personal responses to political acts which have a destructive impact on individuals and society. Henry Reynolds' 1999 memoir, Why Weren't We Told? (WWWT), integrates personal values of justice to challenge the misconceptions in Australian history due to government manipulation to serve the agendas of promoting nationalism and protecting white interests. Similarly, Michael Moore's 2007 documentary, Sicko, represents the inequality in the flawed American healthcare system to address the government's corruption. Therefore, both composers represent their personal agendas to urge individuals to challenge government superiority to create a fair society.

Both composers demonstrate how the representation of people and events are shaped by political perspectives, highlighting their desire for benefits which motivates their manipulative actions. In WWWT, written with the backdrop of the abolishment of the White Australia Policy, Reynolds condemns the constructed history by the government to serve its agendas of maintaining power, leading his audiences to reshape racial views. Initially, Reynolds presents his credentials as "a professional historian," and through the cumulative listing of his involvements in, "political meetings, public forums, lectures, and interviews," which earns the reader's trust and recognise his credibility. Furthermore Reynolds criticise the irrational belief of extinct indigenous culture in Australian education, in the textbook, Out of the Mist, shows Aborigines as "Stone Age people who ... had emerged from the mist." The historical hyperbole reinforces the inaccuracy taught throughout generations thus urging readers to reconsider the fallacies. Moreover he argues that the promotion of the motif "noble frontiersman," allowed the white to justify their political entitlement and Indigenous dispossession. Ultimately Reynolds condemns the contextual Black Armband historians who dismissed the idea history was deliberately distorted in the personification, "flowering of Australian nationalism unite people with white achievements," showing the hypocrisy of defining a new nation only under white achievement. Therefore Reynolds challenges inaccurate representations by exposing the historical distortion and to re-establish readers perspectives.

In Sicko, Moore criticises the government's manipulation to maintain their agenda of gaining profits, influenced by the Medicare Prescription Drug, Improvement and Modernisation Act 2003, which prioritised lobbyist to alter drug prices without government intervention. Initially Moore presents his credibility in a zooming shot on a letter from Doug, whose daughter was denied as her cochlear implant was "experimental" to Cigna questioning "Have your CEO ever been in a film before???" Relating Carol Shields's Essays and Fiction Nora Foster Stovel, 2023-01-01 This collection of essays explores celebrated Canadian author Carol Shields's experimentation with the essay genre in relation to her fiction. Shields's essays clarify her iconoclastic approach to rules of narrative and illuminate her revisionist policies, elucidating the development of her fiction, both novels and stories, as her writing gradually becomes more explicitly feminist as well as more daringly postmodernist. The dozen essays by the eminent Canadianists included in this edition throw fresh light on Shields's writing, inviting us to read it with new eyes by revealing how her essays reflect and refract the brilliance of her fiction. These essays read Shields's fiction through the lens of her essays, including those contained in the recent Giardini edition, wherein the author explains the creative methodologies involved in her fiction and also offers specific advice to writers of fiction.

The Writings of RABASH - Essays - Volume Four Baruch Shalom Ashlag, 2018-05-04 The writings of Rav Baruch Shalom HaLevi Ashlag, RABASH, the firstborn son and successor of Rav Yehuda Leib HaLevi Ashlag, Baal HaSulam, author of the Sulam Ladder commentary on The Book of Zohar, provide us with insights that connect the wisdom of Kabbalah to our human experience. These books disclose the profound knowledge of human nature that the RABASH possessed and take us on a journey to our own souls. As we absorb the texts, we find that Kabbalah is not some cryptic occultism but a time-tested method to understand ourselves and improve our lives and the world around us.

The Art of Time Travel Tom Griffiths, 2017-07-03 No matter how practised we are at history, it always humbles us. No matter how often we visit the past, it always surprises us. Winner of the Ernest Scott Prize and shortlisted for the NSW Premier's Literary Award for Non-fiction, a rare feat of imagination and generosity, Mark McKenna. With every sentence they write, historians must walk the tightrope between discipline and imagination, empathy and evidence. In this landmark work, eminent historian and award-winning author Tom Griffiths shares his passion for the fascinating, complex craft of history, or as he calls it, the art of time travel. In fourteen portraits, Griffiths illuminates how historians such as Inga Clendinnen, Judith Wright, Geoffrey Blainey, and Henry Reynolds have approached their craft. In prose both earthy and elegant, he shows the new insights they have brought to Australian history and, in so doing, reshapes our shared knowledge of this continent. The Art of Time Travel is an exhilarating book that will forever change the way you think of Australia's past. If the past is a foreign country, Tom Griffiths makes the perfect
