That Black Friday Crash J. R. Roberts,2010-01-28 This all began with a simple desire to find out why the Tiger Woods media coverage wouldn t go away a fortnight after the car crash and the revelation of extra marital transgressions With a war raging on in Afghanistan pending health legislation an on going economic depression etc why was this story making headlines In my quest for answers I turned to the online community As I read through various blogs comments message boards etc I began to see why this saga was a major discussion topic amongst folks online This story is an online chat room dramatization of actual online user comments gleaned from a number of social media sites blogs chat rooms and online news message boards Actual usernames locations and specific references have been altered to protect the identities of the online users featured in this story The comments views and experiences cited are real though and in no way reflect my personal views opinions or experiences

Black Friday and Other Stories David Goodis,2006 It s winter in Philadelphia January cold coming in off two rivers Hart is broke freezing looking for a place to lay low from the cops If he can t find somewhere soon he might do something rash like steal an overcoat and accept a wallet containing 11 000 from a man dying from gunshot wounds in the street Whoever killed him might have a bed though even if that means hanging out with a bunch of thieves and drifters while the heat blows over Lucky for Hart he s handy with his fists And if he can use his looks and smarts to get in with the gang maybe he can ride this out and score big on his own Originally published in 1954 Black

Friday is one of David Goodis's leanest meanest melancholy thrillers. In the character of Hart it features one of his classic tortured romantic heroes, a man who becomes mired in circumstances from which there is no escape. In this edition Black Friday is combined short stories unpublished since they were first written for pulp magazines in America over 50 years ago.
