Modeling the World in a Spreadsheet Timothy John Cartwright,1993 Until recently simulation modeling was regarded as the domain of powerful computers and highly skilled programmers But that is no longer the case Thanks to the spreadsheet simulation modeling is now accessible to anyone with a microcomputer students and teachers public officials engineers and planners and ordinary citizens concerned about the environment In Modeling the World in a Spreadsheet Timothy Cartwright explains how to create models of different environmental phenomena ranging from natural processes such as the dispersion of water and air pollution to social processes such as housing affordability He also describes models for some of the most exciting topics in current computer research including artificial life cellular decision making and chaos and fractals Written for both experts and nonexpert the book provides complete recipes for building and running the models in the most popular spreadsheet programs such as Lotus 1 2 3 SuperCalc Excel Quattro and others A 3 diskette containing Lotus or SuperCalc data files for all fourteen models may be ordered using a tear out card that accompanies the book spreadsheet software is required    International Conference on Computation in Electromagnetics, 25-27 November 1991 Institution of Electrical Engineers. Predicasts F & S Index United States Predicasts, inc,1992 A comprehensive index to company and industry information in business journals    Production and Operations Analytics Steven Nahmias,Tava Lennon Olsen,2020-10-01 Nahmias and Olsen skillfully blend comprehensive coverage of topics with careful integration of mathematics The authors decades of experience in the field contributed to the success of previous editions the eighth edition continues the long tradition of excellence Clearly written reasonably priced with an abundance of expertly formulated practice problems and updated examples this textbook is essential reading for analyzing and improving all facets of operations Some of the material in the newest edition has been reorganized. For example the first chapter introduces service strategy, the product process matrix and flexible manufacturing systems, benchmarking the productivity frontier, the innovation curve and lean production as a strategy. The focus is slightly more international. The analysis of capacity growth planning now appears in the chapter on supply chain analytics. Aggregate planning details were added to chapter 3 including chase and level strategies in an appendix to the chapter. There is an expanded discussion on risk pooling in the chapter on supply chain strategy. The mechanics behind lean production are included in the chapter on push and pull production systems. The chapter on quality and assurance downplays sampling in favor of discussions of quality management process capability and the waste elimination side of lean. The separate chapter on facilities layout and location was eliminated and the information redistributed throughout the text. The authors reinforce the learning process through key points at the beginning of each chapter to guide the reader, snapshots that provide useful examples of applications to businesses and historical notes that provide a context for the topics discussed. Production and Operations Analytics 8/e provides the tools for adapting to the dynamic global marketplace.

Factors Influencing the Density of Natural Regeneration in Uniform Shelterwoods Dominated by Douglas-fir in the Sub-boreal Spruce Zone Philip Joseph Burton, British Columbia Ministry of Forests Research Branch, 2000. This report describes studies conducted as part of trials to assess the applicability of a uniform shelterwood system for mixed conifer forests dominated by Douglas fir in the sub boreal spruce biogeoclimatic zone of British Columbia. It focuses on those components related to the density of natural regeneration observed under alternative treatments during the first eight years of the trials 1990-97. The report describes and tests for significant differences among treatments in the following attributes especially as they relate to Douglas fir regeneration density of viable seed, rain seed losses to rodent predation, relative abundance of different seedbeds, early seedling survival, densities of natural regeneration in different size classes and agreement between predicted observed densities of natural regeneration. Other attributes monitored during the study but not directly related to regeneration density are reported only insofar as they influence or help interpret observed densities of natural regeneration.
