Soul Of A People The Wpa Writers Project Uncovers Depression America:

Soul of a People David A. Taylor, 2009-02 Soul of a People is about a handful of people who were on the Federal Writers Project in the 1930s and a glimpse of America at a turning point. This particular handful of characters went from poverty to great things later and included John Cheever, Ralph Ellison, Zora Neale Hurston, Richard Wright, and Studs Terkel. In the 1930s they were all caught up in an effort to describe America in a series of WPA guides. Through striking images and firsthand accounts, the book reveals their experiences and the most vivid excerpts from selected guides and interviews. Harlem schoolchildren, truckers, Chicago fishmongers, Cuban cigar makers, a Florida midwife, Nebraskan meatpackers, and blind musicians. Drawing on new discoveries from personal collections, archives, and recent biographies, a new picture has emerged in the last decade of how the participants' individual dramas intersected with the larger picture of their subjects. This book illuminates what it felt like to live that experience, how going from joblessness to reporting on their own communities affected artists with varied visions, as well as what feelings such a passage involved: shame, humiliation, anger, excitement, nostalgia, and adventure. Also revealed is how the WPA writers anticipated and perhaps paved the way for the political movements of the following decades, including the Civil Rights movement, the Women's Rights movement, and the Native American rights movement.

Southern Cultures Harry L. Watson, Jocelyn Neal, 2010-11-10 In the Winter 2010 issue of Southern Cultures, Hal Crowther takes on H. L. Mencken and Rush Limbaugh too. Southerners battle hornets, rattlesnakes, and bears so they can pick blackberries. Cowboy Troy crosses country music with hip hop and says his belt buckle is bling. The experts redraw the boundaries of North and South. The Home of the Double-Headed Eagle rises amidst a line of shotgun shacks and much more. Southern Cultures is published quarterly: spring, summer, fall, winter, by the University of North Carolina Press. The journal is sponsored by the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill's Center for the Study of the American South.

Nelson Algren Richard F. Bales, 2024-11-01 This book addresses critical gaps in existing biographies of Nelson Algren, providing new perspectives on his writing style, literary contributions, professional colleagues, and personal life, especially his relationship with Simone de Beauvoir. Although Beauvoir maintained a simultaneous relationship with philosopher Jean-Paul Sartre, the correspondence exchanged between Beauvoir, Algren, and Sartre, as this book discusses, sheds new light on her transatlantic love affair with Algren. Moreover, this work challenges the assertion that Algren's writing aligns seamlessly with the New Journalism style popularized by Tom Wolfe. It investigates how Algren's literary legacy might have diverged had he embraced more of the principles associated with New Journalism.
