Prologue, 1981 Transnistria, 1941-1942: History and document summaries Jean Ancel, 2003 Vol 1 comprises a history of the events pp 17 539 and summaries of the 1 109 documents presented in vols 2 3 The history describes actions perpetrated by the Romanians in Transnistria in 1941 43 after the territory was captured by German and Romanian troops A new province of Romania Transnistria was established in August 1941 Earlier the German SS had murdered ca 100 000 of its Jews In September 1941 the Romanians began to resettle the Jews of Bessarabia and other Romanian provinces in Transnistria aiming to expel them

further to the German occupied area of Ukraine This plan failed and part of the Jewish populace was then resettled in ghettos in northern Transnistria and others were incarcerated in death camps in southern Transnistria e g Bogdanovka Domanevka Akhmechetka where most of them were killed by the Romanian gendarmes and their helpers in 1941 42 Describes the murder of ca 80 000 Jews in the Goltz district of which Modest Isopescu was prefect in Odessa and in the Berezovka district Stresses that it was Antonescu and Transnistria s governor Alexianu who were the initiators of the resettlement to and the genocide in Transnistria Many of the Jews died of typhus and other contagious diseases The Romanian authorities were reluctant to fight the epidemics in any way other than mass killing it was the Jews of the rest of Romania who came to the aid of their brethren Dwells on the role of the Romanian Church in the Holocaust Most of the documents in vols 2 3 are from the newly opened archives in Ukraine and Moldova

Hitler's Jewish Soldiers Bryan Mark Rigg, 2002 On the murderous road to racial purity Hitler encountered unexpected detours largely due to his own crazed views and inconsistent policies regarding Jewish identity After centuries of Jewish assimilation and intermarriage in German society he discovered that eliminating Jews from the rest of the population was more difficult than he d anticipated As Bryan Rigg shows in this provocative new study nowhere was that heinous process more fraught with contradiction and confusion than in the German military Contrary to conventional views Rigg reveals that a startlingly large number of German military men were classified by the Nazis as Jews or partial Jews Mischlinge in the wake of racial laws first enacted in the mid 1930s Rigg demonstrates that the actual number was much higher than previously thought perhaps as many as 150 000 men including decorated veterans and high ranking officers even generals and admirals As Rigg fully documents for the first time a great many of these men did not even consider themselves Jewish and had embraced the military as a way of life and as devoted patriots eager to serve a revived German nation In turn they had been embraced by the Wehrmacht which prior to Hitler had given little thought to the race of these men but which was now forced to look deeply into the ancestry of its soldiers The process of investigation and removal however was marred by a highly inconsistent application of Nazi law Numerous exemptions were made in order to allow a soldier to stay within the ranks or to spare a soldier s parent spouse or other relative from incarceration or far worse Hitler s own signature can be found on many of these exemption orders But as the war dragged on Nazi politics came to trump military logic even in the face of the Wehrmacht s growing manpower needs closing legal loopholes and making it virtually impossible for these soldiers to escape the fate of millions of other victims of the Third Reich Based on a deep and wide ranging research in archival and secondary sources as well as extensive interviews with more than four hundred Mischlinge and their relatives Rigg s study breaks truly new ground in a crowded field and shows from yet another angle the extremely flawed dishonest demeaning and tragic essence of Hitler s rule
