Buddhist Thought and Asian Civilization Herbert V. Guenther, 1977 The Dawn

of Tibet John Vincent Bellezza, 2014-08-29 This unique book reveals the existence of an advanced civilization where none was known before presenting an entirely new perspective on the culture and history of Tibet In his groundbreaking study of an epic period in Tibet few people even knew existed John Vincent Bellezza details the discovery of an ancient people on the most desolate reaches of the Tibetan plateau revolutionizing our ideas about who Tibetans really are While many associate Tibet with Buddhism it was also once a land of warriors and chariots whose burials included megalithic arrays and golden masks This first Tibetan civilization known as Zhang Zhung was a cosmopolitan one with links extending across Eurasia bringing it in line with many of the major cultural innovations of the Late Bronze Age and Iron Age Based on decades of research The Dawn of Tibet draws on a rich trove of archaeological textual and ethnographic materials collected and analyzed by the author Bellezza describes the vast network of castles temples megaliths necropolises and rock art established on the highest and now depopulated part of the Tibetan plateau He relates literary tales of priests and priestesses horned deities and the celestial afterlife to the actual archaeological evidence providing a fascinating perspective on the origins and development of civilization The story builds to the present by following the colorful culture of the herders of Upper Tibet an ancient people whose way of life is endangered by modern development Tracing Bellezza's epic journeys across lands where few Westerners have ventured this book provides a compelling window into the most inaccessible reaches of Tibet and a civilization that flourished long before Buddhism took root The Classical Tibetan Language Stephan V. Beyer, 1992-01-01 Among Asian languages Tibetan is second only to Chinese in the depth of its historical record with texts dating back as far as the eighth and ninth centuries written in an alphabetic script that preserves the contemporaneous phonological features of the language The Classical Tibetan Language is the first comprehensive description of the Tibetan language and is distinctive in that it treats the classical Tibetan language on its own terms rather than by means of descriptive categories appropriate to other languages as has traditionally been the case Beyer presents the language as a medium of literary expression with great range power subtlety and humor not as an abstract object He also deals comprehensively with a wide variety of linguistic phenomena as they are actually encountered in the classical texts with numerous examples of idioms common locutions translation devices neologisms and dialectal variations AHP 45
