South African Foreign Policy Review Volume 1:

South African Foreign Policy Review: Volume 2 Masters, Lesley, Zondi, Siphamandla, 2015-07-13 The first two decades of South Africa's democracy have seen a growing breadth and depth in the analysis of South Africa's foreign policy This second volume of the South African Foreign Policy Review considers the continuity and change in South Africa's foreign policy over the course of two decades with a particular focus on the more recent approach under the Zuma administration This includes a closer look at the principles practices and partnerships that shape South Africa's international relations and is aimed at supporting knowledge for reflection on South Africa's conduct internationally and for anticipating ways in which the country may approach international relations and foreign policy going forward It discusses the foreign policy making and the nature of South Africa's diplomatic relations with Africa Asia the Middle East and North Africa Latin America Europe and North America as well as the country's participation in multilateral diplomacy in Africa the global South and at the United Nations UN to expand the discussion and deepen the debate on the future shape and direction of South Africa's foreign policy

South African Foreign Policy Review , The richness of public and academic discourses on the past present and future direction of South Africa's role in Africa and the world suggests that as a sub discipline of politics South African foreign policy is ready for a systematic and regular appraisal in the form of a series of publications that the Institute for Global Dialogue will call South African Foreign Policy Review This is also because constant changes in international and domestic circumstances impinge on the management and analysis of South Africa's foreign policy This the first review provides an important opportunity to build on existing foreign policy works in order to take stock of the road already travelled in the past decade or so This is crucial in laying some basis for anticipating the country's future role and considering the opportunities and challenges which future volumes of the review will consider This volume provides a wide ranging appraisal of the relationship between stated foreign policy goals and actual outputs and outcomes an assessment of how foreign policy has actually been operationalized and implemented To this end common themes in South African foreign policy provide the framework for the first review These include foreign policy decision making soft power dynamics in the foreign policy's strategic calculus diplomatic tools used economic diplomacy peace diplomacy and paradiplomacy South Africa's relations with key states in Africa in the global south and in the global north South Africa's approach to Africa multilateral global multilateralism governance The review hopes to stimulate further discussion and thinking on the challenges confronted and the future shape and direction of South Africa's foreign policy
