South African Graduation Songs:

Readings in African Popular Culture Karin Barber, 1997 This is an extraordinarily rich collection full of informative detail and excellent interpretative analysis. There is not a single piece that fails to fascinate. Leeds African Studies Bulletin is an impressive collection of inspiring and thought-provoking essays. Media Development This is a book that should find its way into many syllabuses and onto the bookshelves of Africanist scholars in many disciplines. Its publication marks a key turning point in scholarship on the cultures of contemporary Africa. Africa Today This book surveys the popular culture of contemporary Africa including popular literature, oral narrative and poetry, dance, drama, music and visual art, with special emphasis on the verbal arts. The essays cover six main areas: views of the field, oral tradition revisited, social history, social criticism and interpretation, women in popular culture, little genres of everyday life, the local and the global.

Sounding the Cape Music, Identity and Politics in South Africa Denis-Constant Martin, 2013-07-12 For several centuries Cape Town has accommodated a great variety of musical genres which have usually been associated with specific population groups living in and around the city. Musical styles and genres produced in Cape Town have therefore been assigned an identity which is first and foremost social. This volume tries to question the relationship established between musical styles and genres and social in this case pseudo racial identities. In Sounding the Cape Denis Constant Martin recomposes and examines through the theoretical prism of creolisation the history of music in Cape Town deploying analytical tools borrowed from the most recent studies of identity configurations. He demonstrates that musical creation in the Mother City and in South Africa has always been nurtured by contacts, exchanges and innovations. Whatever the efforts made by racist powers to separate and divide people according to their origin, Musicians interviewed at the dawn of the 21st century confirm that mixture and blending characterise all Cape Town's musics. They also emphasise the importance of a rhythmic pattern particular to Cape Town, the ghoema beat, whose origins are obviously mixed. The study of music demonstrates that the history of Cape Town and of South Africa as a whole undeniably fostered creole societies. Yet twenty years after the collapse of apartheid these societies are still divided along lines that combine economic factors and racial categorisations. Martin concludes that were music given a greater importance in educational and cultural policies it could contribute to fighting these divisions and promote the notion of a nation that in spite of the violence of racism and apartheid has managed to invent a unique common culture.

All Music Guide Vladimir Bogdanov, Chris Woodstra, Stephen Thomas Erlewine, 2001-11 Arranged in sixteen musical categories, provides entries for twenty thousand releases from four thousand artists and includes a history of each musical genre.
