1. In a certain population of 1000 people, 100 are infected with a disease. A sample of 100 people is taken. What is the probability that exactly 10 people in the sample are infected?
2. In a certain population, 10% of the people are infected with a disease. A sample of 100 people is taken. What is the probability that at least 10 people in the sample are infected?
3. In a certain population, 10% of the people are infected with a disease. A sample of 100 people is taken. What is the probability that at most 10 people in the sample are infected?
4. In a certain population, 10% of the people are infected with a disease. A sample of 100 people is taken. What is the probability that more than 10 people in the sample are infected?
5. In a certain population, 10% of the people are infected with a disease. A sample of 100 people is taken. What is the probability that fewer than 10 people in the sample are infected?

- Abstract The purpose of this study was to determine the effect of a 12-week training program on the physical fitness of 10-year-old children. The study was conducted in a primary school in the city of Ankara, Turkey. The study group consisted of 20 children (10 boys and 10 girls) who were randomly selected from the 10-year-old children in the school. The children were divided into two groups: a control group and an experimental group. The control group did not participate in any physical education program, while the experimental group participated in a 12-week training program. The physical fitness of the children was measured at the beginning and at the end of the 12-week period.
