Sorcery and Sovereignty Sean Redding, 2006 Publisher description    Administration and Taxation in Former Portuguese Africa Philip J. Havik, Alexander Kees, Maciel Santos, 2015-06-18 This book addresses a notable gap in the knowledge of Portuguese colonial administration and the policies implemented in the main territories of its third African empire Angola, Mozambique and Guinea. In recent years the question of colonial taxation has become a topic in the academic debate on colonial empires and has led to a comparative long term focus on its impact in African societies. Given that former Portuguese colonies in Africa have been largely absent from this debate this book...    Empire of Religion David Chidester, 2022-12-22 How is knowledge about religion and religions produced and how is that knowledge authenticated and circulated? David Chidester seeks to answer these questions in Empire of Religion documenting and analyzing the emergence of a science of comparative religion in Great Britain during the second half of the nineteenth century and its complex relations to the colonial situation in southern Africa. In the process Chidester provides a counterhistory of the academic study of religion an alternative to standard accounts that have failed to link the field of comparative religion with either the power relations or the historical contingencies of the imperial project. In developing a material history of the study of religion Chidester documents the importance of African religion the persistence of the divide between savagery and civilization and the salience of mediations imperial, colonial and indigenous in which knowledge about religions was produced. He then identifies the recurrence of these mediations in a number of case studies including Friedrich Max Müller's dependence on colonial experts H Rider Haggard and John Buchan's fictional accounts of African religion and W E B Du Bois's studies of African religion. By reclaiming these theorists for this history Chidester shows that race rather than theology was formative in the emerging study of religion in Europe and North America. Sure to be controversial Empire of Religion is a major contribution to the field of comparative religious studies    The Land Wars John Laband, 2020-07-15 Perhaps the most explosive issue in South Africa today is the question of land ownership. The central theme in this country's colonial history is the dispossession of indigenous African societies by white settlers and current calls for land restitution are based on this loss. Yet popular knowledge of the actual process by which Africans were deprived of their land is remarkably sketchy. This book recounts an important part of this history describing how the Khoisan and Xhosa people were dispossessed and subjugated from the time that Europeans first arrived until the end of the Cape Frontier Wars 1779-1878. The Land Wars traces the unfolding hostilities involving Dutch and British colonial authorities, trekboers and settlers and the San, Khoikhoi, Xhosa, Mfengu and Thembu people as well as conflicts within these groups. In the process it describes the loss of land by Africans to successive waves of white settlers as the colonial frontier inexorably advanced. The book does not shy away from controversial issues such as war atrocities committed by both sides or the expedient decision of some of the indigenous peoples to fight alongside the colonisers rather than against them. The Land Wars is an epic story featuring well known figures such as Ngqika Lord Charles Somerset and his son Henry Andries Stockenstr m Hintsa Harry Smith Sandile Maqoma Bartle Frere and Sarhili and events such as the arrival of the 1820 Settlers and the Xhosa cattle killing It is essential reading for anyone who wants to understand South Africa s past and present

Gorden,2008 Violence in Rural South Africa, 1880-1963 Sean Redding,2023-02-21 Violence was endemic to rural South African society from the late nineteenth century to the mid twentieth century But acts of violence were not inherent in African culture rather violence resulted from the ways in which Africans navigated the hazardous social and political landscape imposed by white rule Focusing on the Eastern Cape province Sean Redding investigates the rise of large scale lethal fights among men increasingly coercive abduction marriages violent acts resulting from domestic troubles and witchcraft accusations within families and communities and political violence against state policies and officials. Many violent acts attempted to reestablish and reinforce a moral social and political order among Africans. However, what constituted a moral order changed as white governance became more intrusive. Land became scarcer and people reconstructed their notions of traditional culture. State policies became obstacles around which Africans had to navigate by invoking the idea of tradition using the state's court system, alleging the use of witchcraft or engaging in violent threats and acts. Redding's use of multiple court cases and documents to discuss several types of violence provides a richer context for the scholarly conversation about the legitimization of violence in traditions, family life and political protest.
