

EXPERIMENT 4: UNIFORM CIRCULAR MOTION

Introduction: In this lab, you will calculate the force on an object moving in a circle at approximately constant speed. To calculate the force you will use Newton's Second Law combined with the acceleration of an object moving in a circle at constant speed. You will then compare that calculated force with a measured value.

You will measure the time  $t$  required for 30 revolutions of a hanging object; the object will be held in a circular path of known radius  $r$  by a horizontal spring attached to the axis of rotation. The time  $T$  for one revolution is then  $t/30$  and the speed  $v$  of the moving object is easily calculated from distance (the circumference of the circle  $2\pi r$ ) divided by time:

$$v = \frac{2\pi r}{T}.$$

Since the object will have been moving in a circle at approximately constant speed  $v$ , the amount of acceleration of the moving object is gotten by

$$a = \frac{v^2}{r}.$$

Finally, multiplying by  $m$ , the measured mass of the object, will give the calculated total amount of force on the moving object.

Procedure

Shown below is a photograph of the apparatus.

You will be asked to perform five trials of this experiment. For the first three trials, keep the circle radius fixed and use three different values of the mass of the moving object. For the last two trials, use two new values for the circle radius. For each trial, you will have to make three separate measurements of the time for 30 revolutions and take the average of those three. Here is the procedure for each of the five trials.
