Why We Shop Why We Shop:

Why We Buy Paco Underhill, 2009 Guide to ever evolving consumer culture offering advice on how to keep current customers and attract new ones Why We Buy Paco Underhill, 2000-06-02 The science mechanics demographics and dynamics of shopping Why We Buy Paco Underhill, 1999 Shopping there s a lot more to it if you know how to look We speed up when we walk past a bank nothing to look at of course so if you don t want your customers to shoot straight past you don t open your shop next to a bank And once you ve lured them in whatever you do don t put key items just inside the door This is decompression zone where we take the five to 15 paces we need to adjust to the shop s lighting and slow down from normal walking pace to browsing And don t ever put menswear at the back of the shop male customers don t like having to walk through womenswear And while we re in womenswear don t place goods that require close scrutiny in narrow aisles Your female customers will leave if they are brushed or knocked by passing shoppers profitable By using state of the art observational techniques and research methods grounded in anthropology and environmental psychology Paco Underhill uncovers the secrets that have made him the retail industry s most sought after adviser with clients including McDonald s Levi Strauss Coca Cola and Sony Why We Buy is essential reading for anyone involved in the business of consumer products and is a hugely entertaining read for all of us who have that one thing in common We shop The Art of Shopping Kevin Duncan, 2014-03-10 Whether you love it hate it or just get on with it everybody is a shopper From the poorest African townships to the smartest retail spaces in the world shopping is an activity that constantly consumes vast amounts of our time money and attention It simultaneously drives commerce and fills our fridges The things we buy contribute to our own personal sense of identity sustaining us both physically and emotionally Yet how much do we really understand about shopping More to the point how well do retailers and manufacturers understand the way we shop In this highly readable ground breaking book Siemon Scamell Katz one of the world s leading analysts of shopper behaviour provides a surprising look at shopper behaviour Drawing on 20 years of pioneering research from filming shoppers in store to brain scanning the author explains how people around the world really shop The Art of Shopping explores what we actually do rather than what we think we do how we really choose and make decisions to buy and what really works for brands trying to persuade us to buy The result is a book that will change the way retailers sell and people shop forever Shopping Deborah C. Andrews, 2014-11-25 The degree to which shopping or more broadly consumerism is both critiqued and defended in American society confirms the role that commercial goods play in our daily lives This collection of essays provides case studies depicting selected aspects of this engaging activity The authors include several historians with diverging specialties an art historian an anthropologist an environmental journalist a geographer and urban planner and practicing artists Each author demonstrates how a material culture perspective a focus on the relationship between people and their things can illuminate a specific corner of consumption Connecting the essays are concerns about the spaces in which shopping occurs about the experience of shopping itself both individual and social and about its economic environmental and personal downsides Collectively these essays demonstrate how a material culture perspective on shopping yields insights into multiple aspects of American culture
