Schunk, 2004 Through its succinct yet thorough overviews of current behavioral cognitive and developmental theories this book explores the many ways in which learning principles can be applied in a variety of educational settings with a diverse population of learners It features down to earth language clear explanations and specific examples of abstract concepts The author examines the relationship between learning and other topics of importance to educators development motivation instruction and self regulation A detailed glossary of more than 300 technical terms facilitates understanding and a bibliography with more than 1 100 references encourages self study For future and in service teachers with a minimal psychology background      The New York Times Index ,2006      Emigration, Nation, Vocation Carter F. Hanson, 2009 Carter F Hanson s Emigration Notion Vocation is a careful synthesis of a too neglected subject While critics have long noted the English emigrant as ubiquitous presence in early Canadian texts apart from Susanna Moodie and Catherine Parr Traill that presence has not been explained Hanson has done so very well here and he writes with precision understanding and imaginative grasp This is a book for anyone interested in Canadian writing Robert Thacker author of The Great Prairie Fact and Literary Imagination      Notes Plus ,1995      Productivity ,1995      World Affairs Report California Institute of International Studies, 1986      J@pan, Inc ,2000      Library Literature & Information Science ,2000 An index to library and information science literature      Cumulated Index to the Books ,1999      Newsweek ,1997      Managing the New Schoolhouse Mary-Ellen Boyle, 1997 Over the past decade the changes in the US economy the transformation of work and workplaces and the topic of labor force preparedness have received scholarly and pragmatic attention As one result employers have increased their direct sponsorship of various types of education and training programs for their employees This sponsorship has been justified by a managerial rhetoric that is rooted in American educational ideology the extent to which rhetoric and reality overlap is the concern here Unprecedented in scope and prevalence employer sponsored education suggests somewhat of a new role for employers and raises questions concerning the connection between such educational endeavors and larger organizational and social changes Through the study of employer sponsored literacy programs this dissertation investigates the extent to which the workplace has become the new schoolhouse Relying upon manager interviews as primary methodology the motives processes and consequences intended and unintended are examined to determine the tangible and symbolic functions of workplace literacy programs and their significance for managers involved Using theories of neofunctionalism exchange control and institutionalism the following conclusions are suggested these programs have multiple and sometimes contradictory meanings for middle managers literacy is functional for the individuals organizations and society in numerous ways and education can be understood as a contract shaping event in the negotiation of a new employment relationship for managers and workers The institutional context is analyzed as well Understanding of employer sponsored literacy education allows insight into the evolving relationships between education and the economy employer and employee middle manager and environment     Wall Street Journal Index ,1992     Index de Périodiques Canadiens ,1999     Resources in Education ,1996
