Reinventing Theology in Post-Genocide Rwanda Marcel

Uwineza,Elisée Rutagambwa,Michel Segatagara Kamanzi,2023 In the year 2019 Rwanda marked twenty five years after the genocide against the Tutsi Sadly Catholic priests and nuns were complicit or even participated in the killing of an estimated 800 000 ethnic Tutsis Thousands of people were slaughtered in Catholic Churches where they took refuge For example 5000 people are estimated to have been killed at the Ntarama Catholic Church in August 1994 In March of 2017 Pope Francis issued an apology remarking that the sins and failings of the Church and its members had disfigured the face of Catholicism This statement recognized that the Catholic Church s role in the genocide has implicated the entire Church and is an invitation to reimagine the very essence of the meaning of the Church theology in its multiple dimensions the missionary enterprise the mission of the Church and the place of human dignity in the Catholic faith The task of rethinking what it means to be the Church and restoring fraternal identity as Christians in post genocide Rwanda is thus crucial if theology is to make sense again This is particularly imperative in as much as theology is compelled to reflect upon the very evils that have disfigured the Church s image and people s identity namely the evils of sin suffering the indifference of bystanders the increasing number of genocide deniers the complexity of memory the lack of credible and prophetic leadership that invites a new way of thinking about theology This book brings together bishops theologians historians and other scholars to reflect on how the Rwandan Catholic Church can restore fundamental peace and rebuild lasting reconciliation

Worship and the New Cosmology Catherine Vincie,2014 What is the Christian response to developments in the hard sciences What do discoveries at the macro and micro levels have to say about Christian theology about a theology of God Christology pneumatology and creation How do the developments in systematic theology that do take the advances in cosmology and the New Sciences seriously come to bear on our worship life These are the questions that are addressed in this text It is an initial effort to bring cosmology and the New Sciences into dialogue with developments in systematic and sacramental theology This book also suggests some ways in which these developments might appear in our worship Overall the author is concerned to reduce the cognitive dissonance between our scientifically informed everyday lives and our life of faith

Routledge Handbook of Religion and Animal Ethics Andrew Linzey,Clair Linzey,2018-09-29 The ethical treatment of non human animals is an increasingly significant issue directly affecting how people share the planet with other creatures and visualize themselves within the natural world The Routledge Handbook of Religion and Animal Ethics is a key reference source in this area looking specifically at the role religion plays in the formation of ethics around these concerns. Featuring thirty five chapters by a team of international contributors the handbook is divided into two parts. The first gives an overview of fifteen of the major world religions attitudes towards animal ethics and protection. The second features five sections addressing the following topics: Human Interaction with Animals, Killing and Exploitation, Religious and Secular Law, Evil and Theodicy, Souls and Afterlife. This handbook demonstrates that religious traditions despite often being anthropocentric do have much to offer to those seeking a framework for a more enlightened relationship between humans and non-human animals. As such The Routledge Handbook of Religion and Animal Ethics is essential reading for students and researchers in religious studies, theology and animal ethics as well as those studying the philosophy of religion and ethics more generally.

Ask the Beasts: Darwin and the God of Love Elizabeth A. Johnson, 2014-03-13 An examination of the relationship between faith in God and the concept of ecological care within a crisis of biodiversity. Preservation and Protest Ryan Patrick McLaughlin, 2014-11-01 Preservation and Protest proposes a novel taxonomy of four paradigms of nonhuman theological ethics by exploring the intersection of tensions between value terms and teleological terms. McLaughlin systematically develops the paradigm of cosmocentric transfiguration, arguing that the entire cosmos shares in the eschatological hope of a harmonious participation in God's triune life. With this paradigm McLaughlin offers an alternative to anthropocentric and conservationist paradigms within the Christian tradition, an alternative that affirms both scientific claims about natural history and the theological hope for eschatological redemption. God in Contemporary Thought Sebastian A. Jehovistic names and titles of God. The attributes of God. Sins. Christian dogmatics Henry Donald Maurice Spence-Jones, Joseph Samuel Exell, Charles Neil, 1889. International Philosophical Quarterly, 1974. Christology and Science F. LeRon Shults, 2008 The dialogue between theology and science has blossomed in recent decades but particular beliefs about Jesus Christ have not often been brought to the forefront of this interdisciplinary discussion even in explicitly Christian contexts. This book breaks new ground by explicitly bringing the specific themes of Christology into dialogue with contemporary science. It engages recent developments in late modern philosophy of science in order to articulate the Christian beliefs about Jesus Christ in a way that responds to challenges and opportunities that have arisen in light of various scientific discoveries. The main chapters deal with Incarnation, Atonement, and Parousia. After a brief treatment of the history of the shaping of these ideas, the author traces developments in some of the sciences that have challenged these formulations: evolutionary biology, cultural anthropology, and physical cosmology. Each chapter also summarises some of the popular constructive responses to these developments. After clarifying the way in which the Christian understanding of God and of humanity shape the task of reforming Christology, each chapter concludes with a programmatic outline of ways in which we might articulate the identity, agency, and presence of Jesus Christ in dialogue with late modern science and culture. The Spirit and the Incarnation William Lowe Walker, 1899. Ecology at the Heart of Faith Denis Edwards, 2006 In a world
