Rules in Database Systems Norman W. Paton,M.Howard Williams,2012-12-06 This book is the proceedings of a workshop held at Heriot Watt University in Edinburgh in August 1993 The central theme of the workshop was rules in database systems and the papers presented covered a range of different aspects of database rule systems These aspects are reflected in the sessions of the workshop which are the same as the sections in this proceedings Active Databases Architectures Incorporating Temporal Rules Rules and Transactions Analysis and Debugging of Active Rules Integrating Graphs Objects with Deduction Integrating Deductive and Active Rules Integrity Constraints Deductive Databases The incorporation of rules into database systems is an important area of research as it is a major component in the integration of behavioural information with the structural data with which commercial databases have traditionally been associated This integration of the behavioural aspects of an application with the data to which it applies in database systems leads to more straightforward application development and more efficient processing of data Many novel applications seem to need database systems in which structural and behavioural information are fully integrated Rules are only one means of expressing behavioural information but it is clear that different types of rule can be used to capture directly different properties of an application which are cumbersome to support using conventional database architectures In recent years there has been a surge of research activity focusing upon active database systems and this volume opens with a collection of papers devoted specifically to this topic Database and Expert Systems Applications Gerald Quirchmayr, Erich Schweighofer, Trevor J.M. Bench-Capon, 1998-08-14 This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the 9th International Conference on Database and Expert Systems Applications DEXA 98 held in Vienna Austria in August 1998 The 81 revised full papers presented were carefully selected from a total of more than 200 submissions The papers are organized in sections on active databases object oriented systems data engineering information retrieval workflow and cooperative systems spatial and temporal aspects document management spatial databases adaptation and view updates genetic algorithms cooperative and distributed environments interaction and communication transaction advanced applications temporal aspects oriented systems partitioning and fragmentation database queries data data warehouses knowledge discovery and data mining knowledge extraction and knowledge base reduction for comprehension and reuse
