Race and Culturally Responsive Inquiry in Education Stafford L. Hood, Henry T. Frierson, Rodney K. Hopson, Keena N. Arbuthnot, 2022-08-16 Race and Culturally Responsive Inquiry in Education examines how assumptions about race and culture have shaped US education research and the interpretation and implementation of its results This ambitious volume sheds light on the detrimental effects of educational praxis and policies that have characterized communities of color and historically underserved communities as deficient It reveals how such bias has affected many facets of educational inquiry from research design and planning to education policy making and evaluation practices The provocative essays in this work challenge traditional suppositions about whose evidence matters highlighting approaches for reframing educational inquiry and arguing for the adoption of a culturally responsive stance that can correct inequities by accounting for students diverse backgrounds and needs Edited by Stafford L Hood Henry T Frierson Rodney K Hopson and Keena N Arbuthnot and featuring contributions from leading and emerging scholars the collection is organized around three key areas education research educational assessment and program evaluation The contributors identify provocative problems that exist at the intersection of race and education in these areas and they illuminate the many ways in which education reform can address intersectionality Calling for effective action they suggest compelling solutions for consideration by policy makers and practitioners as well as researchers Together the essays in this volume make the case that culturally responsive methods that deepen our understanding of educational disparities appropriately measure what students know and can do and ensure that we have accurate information about the effectiveness of educational interventions can improve educational outcomes for diverse learners

Promoting K-12 Civic Learning and Engagement Through Assessment Laura S. Hamilton, Samuel H. Rikoon, David Kidd, 2026-01-22 Promoting K 12 Civic Learning and Engagement Through Assessment is a comprehensive guide to the assessment of civic learning in primary and secondary education contexts Today s schools have a responsibility to teach learners how to critically evaluate information understand the rights and responsibilities of citizenship and engage with people whose perspectives and experiences differ from their own This book provides a vision for testing measurement and assessment efforts that support this broad vision of high quality civic learning for all students The first section sets the stage for the rest of the volume by exploring historical conceptual and technological foundations of civic learning and assessment The second section explores approaches to monitoring school based civic learning opportunities and outcomes at the system level It examines necessary innovations in large scale assessment in order to generate high quality data on a range of civic opportunities and outcomes The third and final section presents work on assessment tools and strategies that directly support educators students and communities in cultivating meaningful civic engagement Scholars teaching faculty and graduate students of educational measurement leadership and policy in addition to professionals in the assessment development field and other nonprofits who are invested in fostering civic competencies among learners will find an innovative resource to inform their work The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license

The Future of Test-Based Educational Accountability Katherine Ryan, Lorrie Shepard, 2010-03-17 In recent decades testing has become a much more visible and high stakes accountability mechanism that is now seen as a powerful tool that can be used to drive school improvement The purpose of this book is to identify and analyze the key issues associated with test based educational accountability and to chart the future of educational accountability research Chapter contributions are intended to be forward looking rather than a compendium of what has happened in the past The book provides an accessible discussion of issues such as validity test equating growth modeling fairness for special populations causal inferences and misuses of accountability data

Democratizing Education With AI and the Future of Personalized Learning Awashreh, Raed, 2025-08-06 Artificial Intelligence AI rapidly transforms the educational landscape offering unprecedented opportunities to democratize access to high quality learning By leveraging AI driven tools educators can tailor instruction to meet the unique needs pace and learning styles of individual students This shift toward personalized learning improves engagement and outcomes while helping bridge educational gaps caused by geography socioeconomic status or limited resources As AI evolves its role in education makes learning more inclusive adaptive and equitable empowering students worldwide Democratizing Education With AI and the Future of Personalized Learning explores the transformative potential of AI in revolutionizing education It examines how AI can make learning more accessible equitable and tailored to individual needs breaking down traditional barriers such as geography socioeconomic status and resource limitations This book covers topics such as inclusive learning smart libraries and digital technology and is a useful resource for educators policymakers engineers academicians researchers and scientists The Future of Assessment Carol Anne Dwyer, 2017-09-25 text This volume stems from the 2003 Educational Testing Service Invitational Conference that convened leading scholars and practitioners from education psychology economics statistics and public policy to discuss the important topic of measurement and accountability The chapters cover all significant aspects of the current accountability scene with careful but not exclusive attention to the No Child Left Behind act Written by nationally recognized scholars with a mandate to write in a non technical style this volume will appeal to anyone seriously interested in school reform and the educational accountability movement

Problem-based Learning into the Future Megan Yih Chyn A. Kek, Henk Huijser, 2016-10-17 In this book we respond to a higher education environment that is on the verge of profound changes by imagining an evolving and agile problem based learning ecology for learning The goal of doing so is to humanise university education by pursuing innovative approaches to student learning teaching curricula assessment and professional learning and to employ interdisciplinary methods that go far beyond institutional walls and include student development and support curriculum sustainability research and the scholarship of teaching and learning as well as administration and leadership An agile problem based learning PBL ecology for learning deliberately blurs the boundaries between disciplines between students and teachers between students and employers between employers and teachers between academics and professional staff between formal and informal learning and between teaching and research It is based on the recognition that all of these elements are interconnected and constantly evolving rather than being discrete and static Throughout this book our central argument is that there is no single person who is responsible for educating students Rather it is everyone s responsibility teachers students employers administrators and wider social networks inside and outside of the university Agile PBL is about making connections rather than erecting barriers In summary this book is not about maintaining comfort zones but rather about becoming comfortable with discomfort The actual implementation is beyond the scope of this book and we envisage that changing perceptions towards this vision will itself be a mammoth task However we believe that the alternative of leaving things as they are would ultimately prove untenable and more distressingly would leave a generation of students afraid to think feel and act for themselves let alone being able to face the challenges of the 21st century

Creative Provocations: Speculations on the Future of Creativity, Technology & Learning Danah Henriksen, Punya Mishra, 2023-01-01 This book explores the complex yet critical relationship between technology and creativity specifically in educational contexts Creativity is important for success in today s rapidly changing radically contingent and hyperconnected world This is even more relevant in the context of teaching and learning where the psychological sociological and cultural aspects of human learning confront the challenges of a rapidly changing technologically saturated world Written by some of the foremost thinkers and researchers in the area of creativity and or technology the chapters in this volume examine the impact of recent and future technologies on creativity teaching and learning Individually and collectively they help us develop an understanding of this nexus of creativity and technology for education They offer new perspectives on this rapidly evolving future exploring issues paradoxes tensions and points of interest for creativity and technology They position these issues in ways that consider implications for thinking learning teaching and education in general     The Times Index ,2010 Indexes the Times Sunday times and magazine Times literary supplement Times educational supplement Times educational supplement Scotland and the Times higher education supplement     Forum for the Discussion of New Trends in Education ,1984     Current Index to Journals in Education ,1981
