Gordon Melton,2003 This encyclopedia revised and expanded contains over 2600 descriptive entries on the religious and spiritual groups of the United States and Canada □□□□ □□ □□□□ David Lane,2021-04-15 Faqir Chand 1886 1981 was a remarkable Indian sage who spent over 75 years practicing an ancient meditation technique popularly known today as surat shabd yoga which attempts to induce a consciously controlled near death experience This book contains Faqir Chand s unique autobiography which was dictated shortly before his death in Urdu and translated during his lifetime into English at the personal request of Professor David Christopher Lane. It also includes a seasoned selection of Faqir Chand's radical teachings as well as several introductory essays and pertinent interviews. This is the first Hindi translation done by Bharat Bhushan. The Reluctant Guru: A Brief Introduction to the Life and Work of Baba Faqir Chand, Baba Faqir Chand's Illuminations Faqir Chand, David Christopher Lane, 2018-06-25. I have been fortunate to be able to publish Baba Faqir Chand's satsangs as presented to Harjit Singh Sandhu and skillfully translated by Pulkit Bose. First as a series in Sach Khand The Journal of Radhasoami Studies and now in book form. These talks that were given in London, England, in 1980 are genuinely remarkable for their utmost clarity and penetrating insights into the nature of spirituality. Baba Faqir Chand is unique amongst masters since he, unlike so many other gurus, was exceptionally honest about his experiences and what he learned from them over the course of his long life. Perhaps Faqir's most fundamental realization was that inner visions are a projection of one's own mind and not due to the religious leaders that we attribute to them. As Faqir said so pointedly on many occasions: "Now you see, no Jesus Christ comes from without in anybody's visions. No Rama, no Krishna, no Buddha, and no Baba Faqir comes from without to anybody. The visions are only because of the impressions and suggestions that a disciple has already accepted in his mind. These impressions and suggestions appear to him like a dream. No body comes from without. This is the plain truth." I have had the privilege of knowing Baba Faqir Chand personally and have read almost everything available by him in English. He has provided us with an amazing cornucopia of wisdom on such subjects as karma, meditation, and ethical living. Yet I must confess that I find the satsangs that he gave to Harjit Singh Sandhu and Simret Kaur Sandhu in London, England, in 1980 to be unique. They are extraordinarily powerful in their import and reveal in a nutshell the very essence of Faqir Chand's radical thinking. I have read through these satsangs several times and in each instance I discover something new in them. Faqir's satsangs are akin to a multifaceted jewel shining forth with crystalline illuminations. I want to express my deepest thanks to Harjit Singh Sandhu for allowing these satsangs to be made publicly available and to Pulkit Bose for his superb translation work. Alongside these wonderful satsangs, I have included a short introduction to my own understanding of Faqir Chand's revelations, which were first presented at an invited lecture at California State University, Fullerton. Regardless of one's religious persuasion or lack thereof, I believe that interested seekers and scholars will be richly rewarded by knowing more about this great unknowing sage of Hoshiarpur. Meeting the Great Sage of the Punjab David Christopher Lane, 2017-12-16. This book contains two interviews of Baba Faqir Chand, the great sage of the Punjab, which were originally published in India in 1978. They were conducted by Professor Mark Juergensmeyer and his research assistant at that time, David Lane. Also included is a new interview with Professor Bhagat Ram Kamal, who is now the spiritual leader at Faqir Chand's ashram, Manavta Mandir. This book provides an insight into Faqir's radical philosophy on spirituality. The Chandian Effect David Christopher Lane, 2015-10-08. The Chandian Effect describes subjective visionary manifestations in which a devotee has a transpersonal encounter involving a sacred figure or form of which the object of devotion is unaware. The term was first coined by David C. Lane and so called because Faqir Chand was the first Sant Mat guru to speak at length about the unknowing aspects of such encounters. The effect designates two major factors in these manifestations: 1. The overwhelming experience of certainty that is associated with religious ecstasies. 2. The subjective projection of sacred forms by a meditator or devotee without the conscious knowledge of the object beheld as the center of the experience. Faqir Chand revealed that all gurus are ignorant about the real cause of the visions and miracles attributed to them and that because of this ignorance the gurus gained power and devotion from followers that accredited omnipresence and omniscience to them even though these gurus possessed neither.
