Three Wishes Palestinian And Israeli Children Speak:

Three Wishes Deborah Ellis, 2004-06-01 Deborah Ellis presents the stories of children of the war torn Middle East based on interviews with Israeli and Palestinian children. In a rehabilitation center for disabled children twelve year old Nora says she loves the color pink and chewing gum and explains that the wheels of her wheelchair are like her legs. Eleven year old Mohammad describes how his house was demolished by soldiers. And we meet twelve year old Salam whose older sister walked into a store in Jerusalem and blew herself up killing herself and two people and injuring twenty others. All these children live both ordinary and extraordinary lives. They argue with their siblings. They dream about their wishes for the future. They have also seen their homes destroyed their families killed and they live in the midst of constant upheaval and violence. This simple and telling book allows children everywhere to see those caught in the Israeli Palestinian conflict as children just like themselves but who are living far more difficult dangerous lives. Jews and Jewishness in British Children's Literature Madelyn Travis, 2013-09-02 In a period of ongoing debate about faith identity migration and culture this timely study explores the often politicised nature of constructions of one of Britain's longest standing minority communities. Representations in children's literature influenced by the impact of the Enlightenment the Empire the Holocaust and 9/11 reveal an ongoing concern with establishing maintaining or problematising the boundaries between Jews and Gentiles. Chapters on gender refugees multiculturalism and historical fiction argue that literature for young people demonstrates that the position of Jews in Britain has been ambivalent and that this ambivalence has persisted to a surprising degree in view of the dramatic socio cultural changes that have taken place over two centuries. Wide ranging in scope and interdisciplinary in approach Jews and Jewishness in British Children's Literature discusses over one hundred texts ranging from picture books to young adult fiction and realism to fantasy. Madelyn Travis examines rare eighteenth and nineteenth century material plus works by authors including Maria Edgeworth E Nesbit Rudyard Kipling Richmal Crompton Lynne Reid Banks Michael Rosen and others. The study also draws on Travis's previously unpublished interviews with authors including Adele Geras Eva Ibbotson Ann Jungman and Judith Kerr Catalog of the Gerald K.
