Thriving In The Wake Of Trauma A Multicultural Guide:

Thriving in the Wake of Trauma Thema Bryant-Davis, 2008-02-08 Thema Bryant Davis examines the cultural issues that health care professionals need to consider in caring for trauma survivors Thriving in the Wake of Trauma Thema Bryant-Davis, 2005-06-30 Explains how cultural factors affect our perception of and recovery from trauma triggered by events including sexual assault domestic violence racial and homophobic hate crimes and discrimination The Praeger Handbook of Social Justice and Psychology Chad V. Johnson, Harris L. Friedman, 2014-07-23 By introducing and explaining the intersection of two exciting and important areas of study this landmark work unleashes their potential to address some of the most complex and globally relevant challenges of our time In this unique handbook experts team up to explain the many innovative ways psychology is being applied to promote social justice The wide ranging three volume work addresses such significant issues as social justice ideology and critical psychology war and trauma poverty and classism environmental justice and well being and suffering It showcases approaches for integrating social justice into psychology and it examines psychology s application of social justice within special populations such as sexual minorities youth women disabled persons prisoners older adults people of color and many others Chapter authors represent a diversity of perspectives making the handbook an ideal resource for those who want information on a specific concern as well as for those looking for an introduction to the subject as a whole Combining the practical with the theoretical the work provides culturally sensitive tools that can effectively combat injustices locally and globally Trauma, Memory, and Narrative in the Contemporary South African Novel , 2012-01-01 The contributions to this volume probe the complex relationship of trauma memory and narrative By looking at the South African situation through the lens of trauma they make clear how the psychic deformations and injuries left behind by racism and colonialism cannot be mended by material reparation or by simply reversing economic and political power structures Western trauma theories as developed by scholars such as Caruth van der Kolk Herman and others are insufficient for analysing the more complex situation in a postcolony such as South Africa This is because Western trauma concepts focus on the individual traumatized by a single identifiable event that causes PTSD Post Traumatic Stress Disorder What we need is an understanding of trauma that sees it not only as a result of an identifiable event but also as the consequence of an historical condition in the case of South Africa that of colonialism and more specifically of apartheid For most black and coloured South Africans the structural violence of apartheid s laws were the existential condition under which they had to exist The living conditions in the townships pass laws relocation and racial segregation affected great parts of the South African population and were responsible for the collective traumatization of several generations This trauma however is not an unclaimed and unclaimable experience Postcolonial thinkers who have been reflecting on the experience of violence and trauma in a colonial context writing from within a Fanonian tradition have on the contrary believed in the importance of reclaiming the past and of transcending mechanisms of victimization and resentment so typical of traumatized consciousnesses Narration and the novel have a decisive role to play here

Treating

Complex Trauma in Adolescents and Young Adults John N. Briere, Cheryl B. Lanktree, 2012 Bad Blood reveals that Bastille is a synth driven band that isn't particularly arty something of a rarity during the electronic pop revival of the 2000s and 2010s Where many of their contemporaries used the glamour of synth pop's 80s heyday and electronic music's infinite possibilities to craft shiny pop fantasies Bastille builds on the glossy anthemic approach they set forth on the Laura Palmer EP the title track which is included here might also be the least arty song inspired by David Lynch's surreal soap opera Twin Peaks Early highlights like Pompeii These Streets and the title track boast panoramic choruses and sleek arrangements that hint at a kinship with Empire of the Sun and Delphic while the handclaps and popping bassline on the otherwise moody Icarus recall Hot Chip at their most confessional However most of Bad Blood suggests that Bastille are actually an electronically enhanced upgrade of sweeping British pop traditionalists like Keane or Coldplay The band updates Oblivion's piano balladry with ping ponging drums and contrasts Dan Smith's throaty singing and searching lyrics There's a hole in my soul Can you fill it with a tumbling beat on Flaws Like the aforementioned acts Bastille has a way with heartfelt melodies and choruses that resonate particularly on the driving Things We Lost in the Fire and Get Home where the slightly processed vocals also evoke Sia Imogen Heap and other electronic friendly singer songwriters While the band occasionally gets a little too self serious on the album's second half Bad Blood is a solid polished debut that fans of acts like Snow Patrol who don't mind more electronics in the mix might appreciate more than synth pop aficionados Heather Phares
