Mental Health Treatment for Children and Adolescents Jacqueline Corcoran, 2011 Mental health problems disrupt the lives of many young people and their families putting them at risk for instability as adults This is particularly true for children from vulnerable populations such as those in the child welfare or juvenile justice systems With the prospect of potentially dire outcomes it is essential that professionals be well equipped to understand and treat mental health disorders early and effectively Mental Health Treatment for Children and Adolescents offers a sweeping synthesis of the research on treatment of DSM defined mental disorders in youth appraising the state of the available evidence and examining how evidence based treatments address the biological psychological and social variables that contribute to the development of disorders and the potential for recovery Each chapter focuses on a different diagnosis covering ADHD oppositional defiant disorder conduct disorder substance use disorders depressive disorders eating disorders anxiety disorders and post traumatic stress disorder Each one contains a critical review of the state of knowledge about a disorder a summary of empirically supported psychosocial and pharmacological treatments a case study and a recommended research agenda In addition each is thoroughly grounded in a risk and resilience framework and focuses on the contextual factors that influence not only the development of a disorder but the implementation and adaptation of evidence based practices in the real world Mental Health Treatment for Children and Adolescents is a valuable resource for students researchers and clinicians both for its presentation of cutting edge data and its emphasis on implications for social workers in training practice and research

Self-Help in Mental Health T. Mark Harwood, Luciano L'Abate, 2009-11-24 Self help is big business but alas not a scientific business The estimated 10 billion that is spent each year on self help in the United States is rarely guided by research or monitored by mental health professionals Instead marketing and metaphysics triumph The more outrageous the miraculous cure and the revolutionary secret the better the sales Of the 3 000 plus self help books published each year only a dozen contain controlled research documenting their effectiveness as stand alone self help Of the 20 000 plus psychological and relationship web sites available on the Internet only a couple hundred meet professional standards for accuracy and balance Most in fact sell a commercial product Pity the layperson or for that matter the practitioner trying to navigate the self help morass We are bombarded with thousands of potential resources and contradictory advice Should we seek wisdom in a self help book an online site a 12 step group an engaging autobiography a treatment manual an inspiring movie or distance writing Should we just do it or just say no Work toward change or accept what is Love your inner child or grow out of your Peter Pan I become confused and discouraged just contemplating the choices Mental Health Systems Compared R.
