Connected Histories Eva Pfanzelter, Dirk Rupnow, Éva Kovács, Marianne Windsperger, 2024-09-23 The World Wide Web WWW and digitisation have become important sites and tools for the history of the Holocaust and its commemoration Today some memory institutions use the Internet at a high professional level as a venue for self presentation and as a forum for the discussion of Holocaust related topics for potentially international transcultural and interdisciplinary user groups At the same time it is not always the established institutions that utilise the technical possibilities and potential of the Internet to the maximum Creative and sometimes controversial new forms of storytelling of the Holocaust or more traditional ways of remembering the genocide presented in a new way with digital media often come from people or groups who are not in the realm of influence of the large memorial sites museums and archives Such private stagings have experienced a particular upswing since the boom of social media This democratisation of Holocaust memory and history is crucial though it is as yet undecided how much it will ultimately reinforce old structures and cultural regional or other inequalities or reinvent them The Digital space as an arbitrary and limitless archive for the mediation of the Holocaust spanning from Russia to Brazil is at the centre of the essays collected in this volume This space is also considered as a forum for negotiation a meeting place and a battleground for generations and stories and as such offers the opportunity to reconsider the transgenerational transmission of trauma family histories and communication Here it becomes evident there are new societal intentions and decision making structures that exceed the capabilities of traditional mass media and thrive on the participation of a broad public

Desforges, 2023-02-21 In recent years countless books articles and documentaries have addressed the negative effects that social media platforms have wrought on their users and society However these former works are incomplete nearly no attention has been paid to Reddit one of the most popular websites in the world Reddit is certainly unique among social platforms but its potential for addiction and darker side of nefarious activity should absolutely not be understated Additionally nearly no actionable advice has been provided to users of these platforms The audience is told that these websites and apps are harming their mental health wasting their time and that they are addictive which would logically make the task of quitting rather difficult but then provided zero guidance on how to disconnect from them Over 200 000 users gather on Reddit's r/NoSurf community to discuss reducing their internet use the forum is filled with reports of people who want to quit Reddit but find themselves psychologically compelled to return to the site over and over For moderate to heavy users of these platforms quitting is clearly not so simple You Should Quit Reddit is a paradigm shift in the genre Jacob Desforges was a Reddit user of over a decade and a self-admitted Reddit addict who spent on average around three hours daily on the site Not only is this the first book investigating Reddit's flaws as a platform but it is also written from the perspective of someone who experienced firsthand the struggle that comes with quitting these addictive platforms This book therefore also provides readers with the practical advice tools and techniques needed to shatter the cycle of digital addiction enabling them to quit visiting Reddit and other time-wasting websites for good so they can effectively reclaim their time to use in a more intentional manner
