Abstract—The purpose of this study was to determine the effect of a 10-week training program on the heart rate (HR) and blood pressure (BP) of sedentary, middle-aged men. The subjects were divided into two groups: a control group and a training group. The control group consisted of 10 men who did not exercise, and the training group consisted of 10 men who exercised for 10 weeks. The HR and BP were measured at the beginning and end of the 10-week period. The results showed that the training group had a significant decrease in both HR and BP compared to the control group. The HR decreased from 72 to 68 beats per minute, and the BP decreased from 120/80 to 110/70 mmHg. The control group showed no significant change in HR or BP. These results suggest that a 10-week training program can effectively reduce HR and BP in sedentary, middle-aged men.
