Forest and Stream ,1896     Artificial Intelligence and IoT in Online Education Systems Ramanujam E.,Chandan Chakraborty,2026-01-15 Design the future of digital education with this essential book that provides a comprehensive guide to leveraging AI and IoT to create dynamic inclusive virtual learning environments and effectively implement advanced online proctoring solutions The rapid development of online learning environments and virtual classrooms coupled with the need for scalable personalized education systems has positioned AI as a key enabler of modern education The advent of these technologies promises to reshape how we deliver monitor assess and evaluate online learning This book explores these critical intersections of technology and education emphasizing the potential of AI and IoT not only to optimize outcomes but also to create more dynamic responsive and inclusive virtual learning environments Focusing on problems that can be solved through computer vision video and audio streaming class imbalance data audio to text processes multi modal and bi modal aspects hand written strokes text similarity biomedical ethics and advancements in machine and deep learning algorithms this book comprehensively explores the effectiveness of these technologies in online proctoring This essential guide will equip educators technologists administrators and policymakers with the knowledge and perspective necessary to leverage these technologies effectively Readers will find the book Explores various AI tools and techniques adopted for online proctoring examination systems Covers critical analytical aspects of AI assisted systems Describes a variety of experiments leading to uni and multi modal systems and IoT based architecture using computer vision machine learning and deep learning algorithms Discusses the quality assurance and psychological aspects to preserve ethics during examinations Audience Educational researchers and policymakers as well as computer scientists working in AI machine learning data science deep learning computer vision and statistics     PC AI ,1998     Artificial Intelligence in Animal Behaviour, Veterinary Behaviour and Neurology Holger Andreas Volk,Jasmin Nicole Nessler,Anna Zamansky,Sebastian Meller,Annika Bremhorst,2025-08-18 The new leap innovation Artificial Intelligence AI will significantly accelerate the speed of science and translate into clinical practice faster than clinicians ever have been used to Machine and deep learning techniques are now readily available to analyze large and complex data sets providing veterinary scientists with a tool to not only better understand complex behaviour traits and neurological conditions but also to delve into the nuances of animal behaviour itself AI can now write plausible sounding text recognize written or spoken human words recognize objects in images or analyze large amounts of data Different fields of applications are known so far such as improving and speeding up interpretation of radiologic findings interpretation of electroencephalography diagnosis of autism in children objectifying ataxia in dogs detecting pain in cats and assessing and characterizing animal behaviours across species At the time of writing more than 500 AI based algorithms have been approved by the FDA for human medicine most of which are used in radiology and neurology In veterinary neurology and animal behavioural science only a limited amount of research on AI has been done so far Most algorithms presented are merely fragments of usable programs and are not suitable for clinical application Therefore ready to use applications are rare yet essential for implementing AI into everyday routine diagnostic work ups scientific research and animal behavioural assessments The research topic will help to unite current efforts and provide a collection of articles to address some of the current scientific and behavioural gaps In the future a clinician might have a clinical decision support tool that generates accurate estimations of likely outcomes of neurological disease and animal behaviour combining anamnestic behavioural clinical clinical pathology and imaging information We are interested in original research systematic reviews and opinion papers not only about the scope and potential of AI for Veterinary Behavior and Neurology but also about the intersection of AI with the study of animal behaviour ethical considerations and pitfalls that the development of AI generated tools could present Potential themes therefore include but are not limited to AI to recognize monitor diagnose or characterise behaviour neurological deficits or conditions including a detailed analysis of animal behaviour across a variety of contexts and species AI to assess behavioural states in both clinical and natural environments AI to interpret scientific clinical data sets such as clinical pathology omics imaging EEG data and behaviour metrics Ethical and legal considerations when applying or using AI tools in the study of animal behaviour and veterinary medicine Potential of AI to enhance clinical practice in veterinary behavioural medicine veterinary neurology and animal behaviour research Potential of AI enhanced diagnostic and behavioural assessment tools with animals
