Post-Digital, Post-Internet Art and Education Kevin Tavin, Gila Kolb, Juuso Tervo, 2021-06-28 This open access edited volume provides theoretical practical and historical perspectives on art and education in a post digital post internet era. Recently these terms have been attached to artworks artists exhibitions and educational practices that deal with the relationships between online and offline digital and physical and material and immaterial. By taking the current socio technological conditions of the post digital and the post internet seriously contributors challenge fixed narratives and field specific ownership of these terms as well as explore their potential and possible shortcomings when discussing art and education. Chapters also recognize historical forebears of digital art and education while critically assessing art media and other realms of engagement. This book encourages readers to explore what kind of educational futures might a post digital post internet era engender

Statistical Inference via Data Science: A ModernDive into R and the Tidyverse Chester Ismay, Albert Y. Kim, 2019-12-23 Statistical Inference via Data Science A ModernDive into R and the Tidyverse provides a pathway for learning about statistical inference using data science tools widely used in industry academia and government. It introduces the tidyverse suite of R packages including the ggplot2 package for data visualization and the dplyr package for data wrangling. After equipping readers with just enough of these data science tools to perform effective exploratory data analyses the book covers traditional introductory statistics topics like confidence intervals hypothesis testing and multiple regression modeling while focusing on visualization throughout. Features Assumes minimal prerequisites notably no prior calculus nor coding experience. Motivates theory using real world data including all domestic flights leaving New York City in 2013 the Gapminder project and the data journalism website FiveThirtyEight.com. Centers on simulation based approaches to statistical inference rather than mathematical formulas. Uses the infer package for tidy and transparent statistical inference to construct confidence intervals and conduct hypothesis tests via the bootstrap and permutation methods. Provides all code and output embedded directly in the text also available in the online version at moderndive.com. This book is intended for individuals who would like to simultaneously start developing their data science toolbox and start learning about the inferential and modeling tools used in much of modern day research. The book can be used in methods and data science courses and first courses in statistics at both the undergraduate and graduate levels

Collaborative #sunrise Mui Ling Lam,2015

Collaborative Sunrise is a computational art installation that draws on themes of nature color time and social connectedness using Instagram photos from around the world to create an eternal sunrise Collaborative Sunrise consists of two components a synthesized digital animation of an Eternal Sunrise and the Collaborative Sunrise Map The first component downloads Instagram photos with the hashtag sunrise in real time and uses a machine learning algorithm to filter out advertisements and other unrelated content Another computer algorithm extracts colors from the photos and channels them into a synthetic animation of what the current sunrise looks like The second component uses a mechanism that pins the Instagram photos used to create the synthetic sunrise onto a world map based on associated geo location information The installation itself consists of two 5 by 14 foot images of both the map and artificial sunrise projected onto the sides of the PlayCube Using the abundance and instantaneity of these pictures made possible by technology and the cultural infrastructure of social media I aim to translate this precious real life moment into a experience of perpetual digital content
