Vancouver In Focus The City's Built Form:

Global Asian City Francis L. Collins, 2018-07-23 Global Asian City provides a unique theoretical framework for studying the growth of cities and migration focused on the notion of desire as a major driver of international migration to Asian cities. Draws on more than 120 interviews of emigrants to Seoul including migrant workers from Indonesia Philippines Thailand and Vietnam English teachers from Australia Canada New Zealand South Africa UK and USA and international students at two elite Korean universities. Features a comparative account of different migrant populations and the ways in which national migration systems and urban processes create differences between these groups. Focuses on the causes of international migrant to Seoul South Korea and reveals how migration has transformed the city and nation especially in the last two decades.

Cultural Mapping as Cultural Inquiry Nancy Duxbury, W.F. Garrett-Petts, David MacLennan, 2015-05-22 This edited collection provides an introduction to the emerging interdisciplinary field of cultural mapping offering a range of perspectives that are international in scope. Cultural mapping is a mode of inquiry and a methodological tool in urban planning cultural sustainability and community development that makes visible the ways local stories practices relationships memories and rituals constitute places as meaningful locations. The chapters address themes processes approaches and research methodologies drawn from examples in Australia Canada Estonia the United Kingdom Egypt Italy Malaysia Malta Palestine Portugal Singapore Sweden Syria the United Arab Emirates the United States and Ukraine. Contributors explore innovative ways to encourage urban and cultural planning community development artistic intervention and public participation in cultural mapping recognizing that public involvement and artistic practices introduce a range of challenges spanning various phases of the research process from the gathering of data to interpreting data to presenting findings to a broad range of audiences. The book responds to the need for histories and case studies of cultural mapping that are globally distributed and that situate the practice locally regionally nationally and internationally.

Cities and Affordable Housing Sasha Tsenkova, 2021-09-06 This book provides a comparative perspective on housing and planning policies affecting the future of cities focusing on people and place based outcomes using the nexus of planning design and policy. A rich mosaic of case studies features good practices of city led strategies for affordable housing provision as well as individual projects capitalising on partnerships to build mixed income housing and revitalise neighbourhoods. Twenty chapters provide unique perspectives on diversity of approaches in eight countries and 12 cities in Europe Canada and the USA. Combining academic rigour with knowledge from critical practice the book uses robust empirical analysis and evidence based case study research to illustrate the potential of affordable housing partnerships for mixed income socially inclusive neighbourhoods as a model to rebuild cities. Cities and Affordable Housing is an essential interdisciplinary collection on planning and design that will be of great interest to scholars urban professionals architects planners and policy makers interested in housing urban planning and city building.

Vancouver in Focus

Mike Chadwick,2006 In contrast to the typical panorama shots of Vancouver this collection is a nod to the built structures of the city Far more than a photo collection this book is a guide complete with maps and pointers It is an invitation to explore the subjects of its pages that bring together old and new bridges and buildings objective and subjective realities The area covered encompasses the city's downtown core from Stanley Park eastward to the neighbourhoods of Chinatown and Citygate and from Coal Harbour south to English Bay Granville Island and False Creek Offering a fresh exploration of the city's downtown areas this highly readable book will appeal to visitors newcomers and long time residents alike

How Great

Cities Happen John Stanley,Janet Stanley,Roslynne Hansen,2017-02-24 Urban planners in developed countries are pushing hard for closer integration of land use and transport At the same time gaps in knowledge and understanding are becoming more apparent as the traditional focus has been on the shape of the city rather than how it functions as a place to live and visit How Great Cities Happen addresses this challenge by developing a wider all encompassing agenda for more productive inclusive and sustainable cities

Vancouver's Glory Years Heather Conn,Henry Ewert,2003 This book reveals one of the greatest eras in Vancouver's history an era before automobiles when people regardless of race religion or social status rode together in the same shared vehicles From the 1890s to 1915 state of the art electric street cars and interurbans carried citizens from downtown to the farthest reaches of the Lower Mainland Vancouver's early people's vehicles with affordable fares carved an exciting new future for the city of 10 000 residents who otherwise had only their feet a bicycle or a costly horse and carriage ride for transportation through the muddy urban streets The way the city developed was dependent on public transit and even modern transit is very much indebted to the earliest plans As well as a history of transit this book explores the dramatic ways Vancouver was changing at the turn of the 20th century It reveals the individuals and the groups who were involved in carving the city from the wilderness and creating a glamorous metropolis Over 150 archival images of classic streetcars and conductors city streets and buildings reveal Vancouver as it was then

Canadian Cities in Transition Trudi E. Bunting,Pierre Filion,2000 Canadian Cities in Transition brings together newly commissioned articles in order to provide a detailed overview of recent trends affecting Canadian cities and future policy implications these trends will have on Canadian cities Aimed at students studying urban geography and focusing specifically on the Canadian city it provides the most current research available Divided into five sections national perspectives regional perspectives intra urban perspectives urban functions and social issues and the public sector the book covers a wide range of subjects Starting with the Canadian city in the global context and urbanization in historical perspective it concludes with an examination of issues such as the inner city housing the urban retail landscape and planning and development The second edition is a significant revision from the first with numerous new articles new contributors and a much more closely linked editorial structure The new second edition includes more emphasis on planning on the environment and on urban design as well as more information on the contemporary social and economic transformations which are affecting society as a whole and echoed in cities The City of the 21st Century ,1988 Traditional Dwellings and Settlements Review ,2004 City Magazine ,1989 European Newsletter of Southeast Asian Studies ,1994 Collected Essays on Smart Growth, 2001-2002 ,2002 Collection of nationally syndicated opinion pieces on land use and sprawl Association for Preservation Technology International Communique ,1999 New Cities of the Pacific Rim Edward James Blakely,Robert John Stimson,1992 Places ,2002 Transit-focused Development Douglas R. Porter,Transit Cooperative Research Program,1997 Offers information on a variety of municipalities and transit agencies attitudes toward the built environment around rail stations Policy and implementation issues completed and unimplemented projects are discussed

The Architectural Review ,1993 The New City John Lorinc,2006 Shaped by immigration and demographics our hub cities demonstrate what's best about Canada our commitment to education tolerance culture and innovation Since the early 1990s however troubling trends have threatened to undermine our much envied quality of life In The New City award winning urban affairs writer John Lorinc offers a compelling vision of how to make Canada's metropolitan centres sustainable livable and competitive Incisive and broad ranging this is a timely reminder that all Canadians must confront urban issues if the country is to succeed in the tumultuous economy of the 21st century
