Vanishing Point Not A Memoir:

Vanishing Point Ander Monson, 2010-03-30 An adventurous exploration of the I in American culture by the author of Neck Deep and Other Predicaments Me Me Me Me Me Me Me Me Me Me Me Me Me Me Me In contemporary America land of tell all memoirs and endless reality television what kind of person denies the opportunity to present himself in his own voice to lead with I How many layers of a life can be peeled back before the self vanishes In this provocative witty series of meditations Ander Monson faces down the idea of memoir grappling with the lure of selfinterest and self presentation While setting out to describe the experience of serving as head juror at the trial of Michael Antwone Jordan he can't help veering off into an examination of his own transgressions inadvertent and otherwise He scrutinizes his private experience of the public funeral ceremony for Gerald R Ford He considers his addiction to chemically concocted Doritos and disappointment in the plain natural corn chip and finds that the manufactured considered form at least in snacks is ultimately a more rewarding experience than the truth So why is America so crazy about accurately confessional memoirs With Vanishing Point Monson delivers on the promise shown in Neck Deep which introduced his winning voice and ability to redefine the essay and puts most memoirs to shame Time Out Chicago

Composition, Creative Writing Studies, and the Digital Humanities

Adam Koehler, 2017-01-26 In an era of blurred generic boundaries multimedia storytelling and open source culture creative writing scholars stand poised to consider the role that technology and the creative writer's playful engagement with technology has occupied in the evolution of its theory and practice Composition Creative Writing Studies and the Digital Humanities is the first book to bring these three fields together to open up new opportunities and directions for creative writing studies Placing the rise of Creative Writing Studies alongside the rise of the digital humanities in Composition Rhetoric Adam Koehler shows that the use of new media and its attendant re-evaluation of fundamental assumptions in the field stands to guide Creative Writing Studies into a new era Covering current developments in composition and the digital humanities this book re-examines established assumptions about process genre authority authorship and pedagogical practice in the creative writing classroom

Writing the South through the Self

John C. Inscoe, 2011-05-01 Drawing on two decades of teaching a college level course on southern history as viewed through autobiography and memoir John C Inscoe has crafted a series of essays exploring the southern experience as reflected in the life stories of those who lived it Constantly attuned to the pedagogical value of these narratives Inscoe argues that they offer exceptional means of teaching young people because the authors focus so fully on their confrontations as children adolescents and young adults with aspects of southern life that they found to be troublesome perplexing or challenging Maya Angelou Rick Bragg Jimmy Carter Bessie and Sadie Delany Willie Morris Pauli Murray Lillian Smith and Thomas Wolfe are among the more prominent of the many writers both famous and obscure that Inscoe draws on to construct a composite portrait of the South at its most complex and diverse The power of place struggles with racial ethnic and class identities the strength and strains of family educational opportunities both embraced and thwarted all of these are themes that infuse the works in this most intimate and humanistic of historical genres Full of powerful and poignant stories anecdotes and testimonials Writing the South through the Self explores the emotional and psychological dimensions of what it has meant to be southern and offers us new ways of understanding the forces that have shaped southern identity in such multifaceted ways A Companion to American Literature Susan Belasco,Theresa Strouth Gaul,Linck Johnson,Michael Soto,2020-04-02 A comprehensive chronological overview of American literature in three scholarly and authoritative volumes A Companion to American Literature traces the history and development of American literature from its early origins in Native American oral tradition to 21st century digital literature This comprehensive three volume set brings together contributions from a diverse international team of accomplished young scholars and established figures in the field Contributors explore a broad range of topics in historical cultural political geographic and technological contexts engaging the work of both well known and non canonical writers of every period Volume One is an inclusive and geographically expansive examination of early American literature applying a range of cultural and historical approaches and theoretical models to a dramatically expanded canon of texts Volume Two covers American literature between 1820 and 1914 focusing on the development of print culture and the literary marketplace the emergence of various literary movements and the impact of social and historical events on writers and writings of the period Spanning the 20th and early 21st centuries Volume Three studies traditional areas of American literature as well as the literature from previously marginalized groups and contemporary writers often overlooked by scholars This inclusive and comprehensive study of American literature Examines the influences of race ethnicity gender class and disability on American literature Discusses the role of technology in book production and circulation the rise of literacy and changing reading practices and literary forms Explores a wide range of writings in multiple genres including novels short stories dramas and a variety of poetic forms as well as autobiographies essays lectures diaries journals letters sermons histories and graphic narratives Provides a thematic index that groups chapters by contexts and illustrates their links across different traditional chronological boundaries A Companion to American Literature is a valuable resource for students coming to the subject for the first time or preparing for field examinations instructors in American literature courses and scholars with more specialized interests in specific authors genres movements or periods American Autobiography After 9/11 Megan Brown,2017-01-10 In the post 9 11 era a flood of memoirs has wrestled with anxieties both personal and national Geological Memoirs New Zealand Geological Survey,1928 The Western Humanities Review ,2014 Ground/water Ellen McMahon,Ander Monson,Beth M.
