Value Added Tax Administrative And Policy Issues Occasional Paper 88:

Value-Added Taxes in Central and Eastern European Countries A Comparative Survey and Evaluation

OECD, European Union, 1998-10-09 This study offers a comparative evaluation of the main features of the VAT systems between the ten countries of Central and Eastern Europe and provides a commentary on the development of the VAT systems in line with the VAT legislation of the EU

Modernizing VATs in Africa Sijbren Cnossen, 2019-07-16 Most African countries are in dire need of more tax revenue In 28 out of 45 countries with a value added tax VAT total tax revenue as a percentage of GDP is around 15% or less falling short of what is necessary to finance basic human and economic development Far from being revenue raising instruments current African VATs are riddled with exemptions exclusions and zero rates on domestic goods and services that depress revenue are highly distortionary and greatly complicate the administration of VAT Modernizing VATs in Africa enables policymakers professionals and students to analyse African tax systems to ascertain how they can be modernized It explains the case for VAT base broadening over rate increasing arguing that exemptions and zero rates mainly accrue benefits for higher income groups Even more persuasively it demonstrates that the net result of fiscal systems can be equalizing if the revenue of broad based VATs is used to finance in kind transfers such as healthcare and education VAT modernization should be used to enable governments to finance development Modernizing VATs in Africa puts a compelling case forward for how and why this can be achieved

Economic Effects of Fundamental Tax Reform Henry J. Aaron, William G. Gale, 2010-12-01 The tax system profoundly affects countless aspects of private behavior It is a powerful policy influence on the distribution of income and it is the one aspect of government that almost every citizen cannot avoid With tax reform high on the political agenda this book brings together studies of leading tax economists and lawyers to assess the various reform proposals and examine the effects of tax reform in several distinct areas Together these studies and comments on them present a balanced evaluation of professional opinion on the issues that will be critical in the tax reform debate The book addresses annual and lifetime distributional effects saving investment transitional problems simplification home ownership and housing prices charitable groups international taxation financial intermediaries and insurance labor supply and health insurance In addition to Henry Aaron and William Gale the contributors include Alan Auerbach University of California Berkeley David Bradford Princeton University Charles Clotfelter Duke University Eric Engen Federal Reserve Don Fullerton University of Texas Jon Gruber Massachusetts Institute of Technology Patric Hendershott Ohio State David Ling University of Florida Ronald Perlman Covington Diane Lim Rogers Congressional Budget Office John Karl Scholz University of Wisconsin Joel Slemrod University of Michigan and Robert Triest University of California Davis

Comparative Public Management Randall Baker, 1994-05-09 In this new approach to a comparative text in public management Randall Baker examines how why and to what extent the public sector around the world has shared in the management revolution The book is designed to isolate and demonstrate the essential American ness of the United States public service by holding it up to the mirror of other developed democracies While there are lessons to be learned from other countries Baker and his expert contributors examine the complexities of making comparisons across cultures even within broadly similar democratic systems and urban industrial economies The volume concludes with a list of sectoral cases These comprise most of the main dimensions of public sector activity around the world They are the main elements of many graduate professional degrees in public affairs and the material has been written with the needs of both practitioners and teachers in mind This is essential reading for all concerned with public management and administration as well as comparative government Tax Notes International ,2004 The Politics of Tax Reform Kent Howard Eaton, 1998

Institutional Elements of Tax Design and Reform John McLaren, 2002-12-31 This is a collection of papers that study the constraints on fiscal systems imposed by problems of institutions administration and incentives in developing and post Socialist economies Chapter two focuses on the administration of indirect taxation and provides a case study of indirect taxation in Tanzania This shows how evasion can be documented and quantified through a case study that looks at a particular type of reform aimed at curbing evasion franchising or privatizing the right to tax which has been tried in several Tanzanian towns as a way of collecting vendor fees for access to a public market Chapter three is a theoretical study of evasion under a value added tax VAT and the inefficiencies it can create Chapter four studies the fiscal constraints within the federal politics of Russia while Chapters five and six examine case studies India in fiscal federalism in which the determination of fiscal outcomes is to a considerable degree a matter of bargaining between political entities in the center and in the periphery In both cases it appears that large scale distortions away from an ideal tax system emerge as a result suggesting corruption can be fought by increasing functional specialization within a tax bureaucracy The last chapter looks at the problem of opportunistic taxation particularly regarding the African context and studies various ways in which the problem can be alleviated Bulletin for International Fiscal Documentation ,2003 Reserve Bank of India Occasional Papers ,1993 IMF Working Paper ,1996 Research Activities of the International Monetary Fund International Monetary Fund.
