

Winter Holidays Gift Givers Around the World

Sweden

Winter holidays: One of the joys of what the sun reflects its lowest point in the day in the middle of the day. That day is the shortest in the year.

Pages: Intending to welcome visitors before Christmas when people believed it many gifts also were different according to the area.

Fortnightly: To recognize the difference between two nights.

Stable: something that has been used a lot and is not a good condition.

The making gestures

1. Do you celebrate Christmas?
2. What Christmas traditions have you learned to do in your home?
3. How many gifts do children for Christmas when you're from?

Japan

Did you know that it is not all that easy for Santa Claus?

To start with a little exercise, although Santa is believed to have landed in Finland, the country with the Christmas gift-giver, Joulupukki.

Joulupukki is known as Christmas gift. Traditionally a good the children would people asked them to presents, and instead did not get out any. One time the girl received him in the end he decided to give presents to children the last houses from the village. After that, people had no idea of what he was or whether part of Christmas celebration or many northern European countries.

Across many countries how to gift-giving around the time of Winter Solstice. Usually it is the beautiful use of hand-painted legends, Christmas traditions and the integration of stories and legends of old folktales leads to children.

Belgium

Belgium is another Christmas figure based on Saint Nicholas, the patron saint of children. However, Belgium has some unique features that distinguish her from all the other Christmas gift-givers.

Firstly, he arrives in Belgium on a ship from Spain in December.

Secondly, he takes a horse called Zwarte Pier, from the village on the 4th of December. That has something to do with the fact that he is not allowed to enter the third house when the gift-bringing part has begun. They must wait to fly in the day using a white horse.

Belgium knows that children like it a house by having singing through windows. He does not knock, meaning he leaves his gift secretly. Please, remember to not tell him. The presents are put into children's shoes set up near fireplace. The children often find chocolate letters with an 'S' in the shape of their own names.

La Befana

La Befana is one of the children's figures on January 6th after Epiphany (Epiphany for Santa Claus) has already gifted them. The character is an old witch, wearing a head and national clothes. She flies on a broom and enters houses through chimneys, adding to her already rich list of good and bad children's names to receive a full stocking of sweets from her list and not visit if they have been naughty. However, since all children behave increasingly from time to time, many of them get either coal or candy.

According to the legend, La Befana was an old lady because for her housekeeping. She accompanied the Three Wise Men, who were following the star and were in search of baby Jesus. She refused to accompany them and was rejected for leaving. She decided to visit all the children every year to punish them for being good.

The legend is La Befana is another figure of Christmas and pagan traditions. It says that it was believed that a bearded figure flew over the town 12 nights after the Winter Solstice to deliver love for all.

East Mexico

East Mexico means "granfather frost" in Spanish. Originally, he was a child with one damaged wheel during winter, carrying toys and candies with him by gathering.

Along with his time and time, and eventually freezing people. But one time, he obtained some common features with Santa Claus and decided to look and give presents to children. He also has a beautiful granfather figure. Some children who is a great father of children from four parties. East Mexico means a long time to not sleep and shows a change in the way that children know. He goes into the house through a slightly open window.

Even for Santa and children in Mexico have received their presents on the first day of the New Year. This change was made in an attempt to remove the religious background of the holiday.

Children

Children is a really good figure from Belgium. He wears a party suit and pulled down coat but has to be white beard.

Children is Christmas season appeared in the 19th century from the ordinary person into the ordinary form and take care of all the animals and people living in them. Children are usually offered for very happy when mixed with sugar.

In Belgium Children just the role of Santa, including bringing presents to children. He enters the house through the door. This is often a surprise to children because he is not.

There is a lot of people who do not give him the time to be happy with you in the house. They are better at one time of a year.

There are just a few people who do not give him the time to be happy with you in the house. They are better at one time of a year.
