Listening After Nature Mark Peter Wright, 2022-05-05 Listening After Nature examines the constructions and erasures that haunt field recording practice and discourse. Analyzing archival and contemporary soundworks through a combination of post colonial ecological and sound studies scholarship, Mark Peter Wright recodes the field, troubles conceptions of Nature, expands site specificity and unearths hidden technocultures. What exists beyond the signal? How is agency performed and negotiated between humans and nonhumans? What exactly is a field recording and what are its pedagogical potentials? These questions are operated by a methodology of listening that incorporates the spaces of audition as well as Wright's own practice based reflections. In doing so, Listening After Nature posits a range of novel interventions. One example is the Noisy Nonsensory, a conceptual figuration with which to comprehend the presence of reticent recordists. Contact Zones and Elsewhere Fields offers another unique contribution by reimagining the relationship between the field and studio. In the final chapter, Wright explores the microphone by tracing its critical and creative connections to natural resource extraction and contemporary practice. Listening After Nature auditions water and waste infrastructures and animals, technologies and recordists' data and stars. It grapples with the thresholds of sensory perception and anchors itself to the question: what am I not hearing? In doing so, it challenges Western universalisms that code the field whilst offering vibrant practice based possibilities.

Tailspin Aravind Yelery, Mrudul Nile, 2021-11-22 In recent decades, Asia's ascent has been contextualized as the rise of two major neighboring countries in Asia: India and China. Besides voluminous work on the prospects and convergences between the two, currently they stand at an intersection of time where suspicion and mistrust veils the confidence. A degree of uncertainty arises from the more profound paradoxes, and India has been falling short in escaping the tailspin China has created in the bilateral regional and global economic dynamics. India's China relations is not just about boundaries and boycott of Chinese products The root of the relationship lies in deficiency of trust knowledge and repository of experts on China To deal with India s China Tailspin effectively one must know and comprehend China thoroughly This book brings out several aspects of India s political economic relations with China on the table The book underlines the fact that while leveraging China s inherent contradictions India has to deleverage from China s subtle global aspirational designs of domination Besides analyses on leadership state capitalism and geo economics the book describes special cases such as the Trade War Structural Conflicts in Chinese Political Economy Bangladesh China India Myanmar Economic Corridor WTO negotiations Maritime trade Belt and Road Initiative and Taiwan to better elaborate the stakes involved in dealing with China The recent boundary tension created a long tailspin which in turn set off a raucous debate over China s economic diplomacy and how India could comprehend it well Please note Taylor Francis does not sell or distribute the Hardback in India Pakistan Nepal Bhutan Bangladesh and Sri Lanka      The Butterfly's Sting Abbie
