Sustainable Development In World Trade Law Global Trade Finance Series:

Sustainable Development in World Trade Law Markus W. Gehring, Marie-Claire Cordonier Segger, 2005-01-01 In Johannesburg at the World Summit on Sustainable Development in 2002 over one hundred and eighty states assumed a collective responsibility to advance and strengthen the interdependent and mutually reinforcing pillars of sustainable development economic development social development an environmental protection at the local national regional and global levels This remarkable collection of papers sponsored by the Centre for International Sustainable Development Law CISDL demonstrates that sustainable development serves as a unifying concept with the potential to facilitate much needed respect for international law and timely implementation of diverse and overlapping international commitments It builds on the substance of a rich and complex debate at the intersections among economic social and environmental law bringing together a broad cross section of viewpoints and voices The authors review recent developments in WTO discussions and negotiations and in the recent decisions of the WTO Appellate Body from a sustainable development law perspective They also survey relevant new developments in trade and economic agreements at regional inter regional and bi lateral levels The various essays focus on sustainable development aspects of key issues in recent trade negotiations such as the Singapore Issues investment competition trade facilitation and government procurement intellectual property rights investment arbitration and the linkage between the WTO and multilateral environmental accords MEAand s Among the specific topics covered are the following Emerging areas of law and policy in trade and sustainable development The underlying development agendas in global trade law negotiations Cooperation and potential negotiation on international competition law Sustainable development aspects of intellectual property rights negotiations Overlaps between multilateral environmental accords MEAand s and the WTO Recent developments in WTO dispute settlement procedures and proceedings Human rights and environmental opportunities from trade liberalisation and increased market acces Human rights and environment impact assessment techniques used to analyse trade agreements Recent developments in bi lateral and regional trade agreements Trade investment and competition law practitioners and negotiators in developed and developing countries will find this book of great value as will development and environment law professionals with responsibility for trade and WTO law related matters With rich contributions from leading trade law practitioners academics and WTO panel and appellate body roster members Sustainable Developments in World Trade Law offers a constructive timely and accessible expert analysis of recent discussions and advances in the field providing an integrated and essential guide to some of the most important issues in international economic law today Making Global Trade Governance Work for Development Carolyn Deere Birkbeck, 2011-08-18 Discussion of the governance of global trade and the multilateral trading system is too often dominated by developed country scholars and opinion makers with inadequate attention given to developing country perspectives Making Global Trade Governance Work for Development gathers a diversity of developing country views on how to improve the governance of global trade and the WTO to better advance sustainable development and respond to the needs of developing countries. With contributions by senior scholars, commentators and practitioners, the essays combine new empirically grounded research with practical insights about the trade policy making process. They consider the specific governance issues of interest to developing countries and acknowledge the changing dynamics in the global economy and in trade decision making. Expert Knowledge in Global Trade Erin Hannah, James Scott, Silke Trommer, 2015-08-27. This book explores tensions in global trade by examining the role of experts in generating, disseminating and legitimating knowledge about the possibilities of trade to work for global development. To this end, contributors assess authoritative claims on knowledge. They also consider structural features that uphold trade experts' monopoly over knowledge such as expert language and legal and economic expertise. The chapters collectively explore the tensions between actors who seek to effect change and those who work to uphold the status quo, exacerbate asymmetries and reinforce the dominant narrative of the global trade regime. The book addresses the following key overarching research questions: Who is considered to be a trade expert and how does one become a knowledge producer in global trade? How do experts acquire, disseminate and legitimate knowledge? What agendas are advanced by expert knowledge? How does the discourse generated within trade expertise serve to close off alternative institutional pathways and modes of thinking? What potential exists for the emergence of more emancipatory global trade policies from contemporary developments in the field of trade expertise? This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of IPE, Trade Politics, International Relations and International Organizations.

International Trade, Investment, and the Sustainable Development Goals Cosimo Beverelli, Jürgen Kurtz, Damian Raess, 2020-10. A multi-disciplinary investigation of how economic globalization can help achieve the UN's 2030 Agenda exploring trade offs among the Goals. Journal of World Trade, 2006-02. Asper review of international business and trade law, 2005. Journal of World Trade Law, 1986. HMSO Agency Catalogue Great Britain. Her Majesty's Stationery Office, 2004. The Evolving Global Trade Architecture Dilip K. Das, 2007. Dilip Das explores how the creation of the multilateral trade regime or the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade/World Trade Organization/WTO system has been fraught with difficulties. He describes the ways by means of various rounds of negotiations the multilateral trade regime has constantly adjusted itself to the new realities of the global economy. The essential focus of this comprehensive and accessible book is the evolution of the multilateral trade regime in an ever changing global economic environment, particularly during the WTO era and including the ongoing Doha Round. The Stationery Office Agency Catalogue 2016 The Stationery Office, 2017-05-17. Rules for Trade in Services 2.0 Gabriel Gari,2024-06-24 This book explores the adapting process of the General Agreement on Trade in Services GATS to a constantly changing trade and policy context The adoption of the General Agreement on Trade in Services GATS a multilateral agreement with stand alone rules and principles for the governance of trade and investment in services represented a watershed in the history of global trade governance. Over three decades after the drafting of the Agreement WTO Members struggle to deliver on the GATS mandate to achieve progressively higher levels of trade liberalisation in a radically different trade and policy landscape. Against this background this book examines the contribution of the WTO negotiating, adjudicative and deliberative functions to adapting the GATS to changing circumstances. The book uncovers an extremely flexible and adaptable agreement whose full potential has yet to be realised due to a complex set of factors weighing more broadly on the use of the WTO functions. The book distils the factors at play that constrain WTO Members' capacity to adapt the Agreement to changing circumstances and explores potential pathways to overcome them. The book will be of interest to scholars, policy makers and trade diplomats interested in understanding the factors and processes conditioning the adaptation of a multilateral trade agreement to changing trade and policy circumstances.
