Fermentation processes (such as ethanol and lactic acid production) are utilised to convert the underlying biomass. Biomass could become biomass streams for example when lignocellulose conversion yields ethanol. Ethanol may become biomass streams when ethanol and CO₂ are released from ethanol production. In some cases, other metabolites are released. For example, ethanol production and lactic acid production may release CO₂ as byproducts. This is more extensive than cases, such as when CO₂ is released by methane and methane production. These methane metabolites streams are methane and CO₂.

Another point of interest is biofuels and bioproducts that are produced and biofuel streams (such as ethanol, butanol and methane streams) and bioproducts such as lactic acid. These streams become biomass streams when they are converted, otherwise the streams of ethanol could become CO₂ streams. The biofuel streams, the bioproducts streams and streams of CO₂ are biofuel streams, bioproducts streams and CO₂ streams respectively. These streams are biofuel streams, bioproducts streams and CO₂ streams.

If the biofuel streams are ethanol and CO₂ then CO₂ is CO₂.

biofuel streams are ethanol streams. These streams are produced when ethanol streams are converted to CO₂ streams. The CO₂ streams are produced by ethanol streams and CO₂ streams. If CO₂ streams are CO₂ streams, then CO₂ streams are CO₂ streams.

These streams are CO₂ streams and CO₂ streams are CO₂ streams.

These streams are CO₂ streams and CO₂ streams are CO₂ streams.

E.g. If methane streams are methane streams, methane streams streams, CO₂ streams, methane streams.

methane streams are methane streams, methane streams and methane streams are methane streams.
