Women Taking Risks In Contemporary Autobiographical Narratives Language And Literature:

Women Taking Risks in Contemporary Autobiographical Narratives Anna Rocca, Kenneth S. Reeds, 2013 Women Taking Risks in Contemporary Autobiographical Narratives explores the nature and effects of risk in self narrative representations of live events. The collection focuses on risk taking as one of women's articulations of authorial agency displayed in literary testimonial, photographic, travel and film documentary forms of autobiographical expression.

Transnational Orientalisms in Contemporary Spanish and Latin American Cinema Michele C. Dávila

Gonçalves, 2016-02-08 In recent decades in Spain and Latin America transnational voices typically stereotyped alienated or co opted in the Western world have been gaining increasing presence in cultural texts. The transnational representation of the Oriental subject namely Arabs and Jews, Chinese and other ethnic groups that have migrated to Spain and Latin America either voluntarily or forcefully is now being seen anew in both literature and cinema. This book explores Orientalism beyond literature in which it has already garnered attention to examine the new ways of seeing and interpreting both the Middle East and the East in contemporary films in which many of the immigrants traditionally omitted from the dominant narratives are able to present the trauma, memories and violence of their exile and migration. As such this volume explores the representation of those single and doubly marginalized groups in contemporary Spanish and Latin American cinema analysing how films from Spain, Mexico, Chile, Brazil and Argentina portray transnational subjects from a wide spectrum of the Orient world including Maghreb from North Africa and Palestinian, Jewish, Chinese and Korean peoples. Once vulnerable to the dominant culture of their adopted homes facing ostracism and marginalisation these groups are now entering into the popular imagination and revised history of their new countries. This volume explores the following questions as starting points for its analysis: Are these manifestations the new orientalist normative or are there other characterizations? Are new cinematic scopes and understandings being created? The old stereotypical orientalist ways of seeing these vulnerable groups are beginning to change to a more authentic representation although in some cases they may still reside in the subtext of films.

Feeling Dis-ease in Modern History Rob Boddice, Bettina Hitzer, 2022-05-05 This book explores experiences of illness broadly construed. It encompasses the emotional and sensory disruptions that attend disease, injury, mental illness or trauma and gives an account of how medical practitioners, experts, lay authorities and the public have felt about such disruptions. Considering all sides of the medical encounter and highlighting the intersection of intellectual history and medical knowledge of institutional atmospheres, built environments and technological practicalities and of emotional and sensory experience. Feeling Dis-ease in Modern History presents a wide ranging affective account of feeling well and of feeling ill. Especially occupied with the ways in which dynamics of power and authority have either validated or discounted dis-eased feelings, the book's contributors probe at the intersectional politics of medical expertise and patient experience to better understand situated expressions of illness, their reception and their social, cultural and moral valuation. Drawing on methodologies from the histories of emotions senses science and the medical humanities this book gives an account of the complexity of undergoing illness of feeling dis ease Contemporary Literary Criticism Daniel G.
