Southwestern Women Writers and the Vision of Goodness Catharine Savage Brosman, 2016-08-05 This literary history focuses on five women writers Mary Austin Willa Cather Laura Adams Armer Peggy Pond Church and Alice Marriott whose work appeared from around 1900 through the 1980s All came from or lived and worked in California Arizona New Mexico or Oklahoma The book situates them in their time and place and examines their interactions with landscapes people art and history Their interest in fine arts and native arts and crafts is stressed as well as their concern for the environment

Women Writers of the American West, 1833-1927 Nina Baym, 2011-03-01 Women Writers of the American West 1833 1927 recovers the names and works of hundreds of women who wrote about the American West during the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries some of them long forgotten and others better known novelists poets memoirists and historians such as Willa Cather and Mary Austin Holley Nina Baym mined literary and cultural histories anthologies scholarly essays catalogs advertisements and online resources to debunk critical assumptions that women did not publish about the West as much as they did about other regions Elucidating a substantial body of nearly 650 books of all kinds by more than 300 writers Baym reveals how the authors showed women making lives for themselves in the West how they represented the diverse region and how they represented themselves Baym accounts for a wide range of genres and geographies affirming that the literature of the West was always more than cowboy tales and dime novels Nor did the West consist of a single landscape as women living in the expanses of Texas saw a different world from that seen by women in gold rush California Although many women writers of the American West accepted domestic agendas crucial to the development of families farms and businesses they also found ways to be forceful agents of change whether by taking on political positions deriding male arrogance or as their voluminous published works show speaking out when they were expected to be silent Borderwaters Brian Russell Roberts, 2021-04-05 Conventional narratives describe the United States as a continental country bordered by Canada and Mexico Yet since the late twentieth century the United States has claimed more water space than land space and more water space than perhaps any other country in the world This watery version of the United States borders some twenty one countries particularly in the archipelagoes of the Pacific and the Caribbean In Borderwaters Brian Russell Roberts dispels continental national mythologies to advance an alternative image of the United States as an archipelagic nation Drawing on literature visual art and other expressive forms that range from novels by Mark Twain and Zora Neale Hurston to Indigenous testimonies against nuclear testing and Miguel Covarrubias's visual representations of Indonesia and the Caribbean Roberts remaps both the fundamentals of US geography and the foundations of how we discuss US culture

Westerns Victoria Lamont, 2016-08 At every turn in the development of what we now know as the western women writers have been instrumental in its formation Yet the myth that the western is male authored persists Westerns A Women's History debunks this myth once and for all by recovering the women writers of popular westerns who were active during the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries when the western genre as we now know it emerged Victoria Lamont offers detailed studies of some of the many women who helped shape the western Their novels bear the classic hallmarks of the western cowboys schoolmarm's gun violence lynchings cattle branding while also placing female characters at the center of their western adventures and improvising with western conventions in surprising and ingenious ways In Emma Ghent Curtis's The Administratrix a widow disguises herself as a cowboy and infiltrates the cowboy gang responsible for lynching her husband Muriel Newhall's pulp serial character Sheriff Minnie comes to the rescue of a steady stream of defenseless female victims B M Bower Katharine Newlin Burt and Frances McElrath use cattle branding as a metaphor for their feminist critiques of patriarchy In addition to recovering the work of these and other women authors of popular westerns Lamont uses original archival analysis of the western fiction publishing scene to overturn the long standing myth of the western as a male dominated genre The Times Index ,2011 Indexes the Times Sunday times and magazine Times literary supplement Times educational supplement Times educational supplement Scotland and the Times higher education supplement
