Charlotte Perkins Gilman,2014-08-14 The Yellow Wallpaper is a 6 000 word short story by the American writer Charlotte Perkins Gilman first published in January 1892 in The New England Magazine It is regarded as an important early work of American feminist literature illustrating attitudes in the 19th century toward women s physical and mental health Presented in the first person the story is a collection of journal entries written by a woman whose physician husband has confined her to the upstairs bedroom of a house he has rented for the summer She is forbidden from working and has to hide her journal from him so she can recuperate from what he calls a temporary nervous depression a slight hysterical tendency a diagnosis common to women in that period The windows of the room are barred and there is a gate across the top of the stairs allowing her husband to control her access to the rest of the house The story depicts the effect of confinement on the narrator s mental health and her descent into psychosis With nothing to stimulate her she becomes obsessed by the pattern and color of the wallpaper It is the strangest yellow that wall paper It makes me think of all the yellow things I ever saw not beautiful ones like buttercups but old foul bad yellow things But there is something else about that paper the smell The only thing I can think of that it is like is the color of the paper A yellow smell In the end she imagines there are women creeping around behind the patterns of the wallpaper and comes to believe she is one of them She locks herself in the room now the only place she feels safe refusing to leave when the summer rental is up For outside you have to creep on the ground and everything is green instead of yellow But here I can creep smoothly on the floor and my shoulder just fits in that long smooch around the wall so I cannot lose my way A woman gradually suffers a mental breakdown as a result of confinement and

denial of her creative energies by her husband The Yellow Wallpaper and Herland Charlotte Perkins Gilman,2024-08-22 The Yellow Wallpaper and Herland written by prominent feminist author Charlotte Perkins Stetson Gilman offers a thought provoking and compelling exploration of gender roles mental health and societal expectations in the late 19th and early 20th century Both texts although written nearly a decade apart share a common theme of challenging traditional gender norms and advocating for female empowerment In The Yellow Wallpaper Gilman tells the story of a woman s descent into madness as she is confined to a room with yellow wallpaper by her controlling husband who is also her physician Through the protagonist s increasingly erratic thoughts and behaviors the author highlights the damaging effects of the oppressive patriarchal society on women s mental health Gilman also critiques the medical profession s treatment of women particularly highlighting the lack of agency and autonomy female patients were given in their own care Herland on the other hand presents a utopian society where women live in isolation and have evolved to reproduce through parthenogenesis rendering men unnecessary The story follows three male explorers who stumble upon this all female society and are forced to confront their own preconceived notions of gender roles and superiority Through this fictional society Gilman challenges traditional gender roles and suggests that women are capable of thriving without men challenging the male dominated societal structure of the time Gilman s writing in both books is characterized by her strong feminist beliefs and her ability to use fiction to present thought provoking social commentary She challenges the idea of women s inherent inferiority and advocates for their rights to autonomy education and independence Her writing also sheds light on the damaging effects of patriarchal norms and expectations on women s mental health a topic that was often ignored or dismissed in her time The Yellow Wallpaper and Herland remain relevant and powerful texts in today s society shedding light on the ongoing struggle for gender equality and the importance of empowering women They continue to inspire feminist discourse and serve as a reminder of the progress that still needs to be made in achieving true gender equality Overall this collection of books is a must read for anyone interested in feminist literature and the societal implications of gender roles In this collection of stories Dostoevsky showcases his remarkable ability to delve into the depths of the human experience Through his rich character development unflinching social commentary and nuanced exploration of themes such as love isolation and the inherent contradictions within humanity the author masterfully captures the essence of what it means to be human These seven short stories are a testament to Dostoevsky s timeless brilliance and continue to enthrall readers with their piercing insights into the human condition The Yellow Wallpaper Charlotte Perkins Gilman,2019-07-07 the yellow wallpaper by charlotte perkins gilman This book includes summary character list glossary etc for better e reading experience Hope you enjoy and love reading this book The Yellow Wallpaper original title The Yellow Wall paper A Story is a short story by American writer Charlotte Perkins Gilman first published in January 1892 in The New England Magazine It is regarded as an important early work of American feminist literature due to its illustration of the attitudes towards mental and physical health of women in

Yellow Wallpaper Charlotte Perkins Gilman,2014-08-23 It is very seldom that mere ordinary people like John and myself secure ancestral halls for the summer A colonial mansion a hereditary estate I would say a haunted house and reach the height of romantic felicity but that would be asking too much of fate Still I will proudly declare that there is something queer about it Else why should it be let so cheaply And why have stood so long untenanted The Yellow Wallpaper Charlotte Perkins Gilman,2017-08-08 THE YELLOW WALLPAPER is a story by the American writer Charlotte Perkins Gilman first published in January 1892 in The New England Magazine It is regarded as an important early work of American feminist literature illustrating attitudes in the 19th century toward women's health both physical and mental Presented in the first person the story is a collection of journal entries written by a woman whose physician husband John has rented an old mansion for the summer Foregoing other rooms in the house the couple moves into the upstairs nursery As a form of treatment she is forbidden from working and is encouraged to eat well and get plenty of exercise and air so she can recuperate from what he calls a temporary nervous depression a slight hysterical tendency a diagnosis common to women in that period She hides her journal from her husband and his sister the housekeeper fearful of being reproached for overworking herself The room's windows are barred to prevent children from climbing through them and there is a gate narrator devotes many journal entries to describing the wallpaper in the room its yellow smell its breakneck pattern the missing patches and the way it leaves yellow smears on the skin and clothing of anyone who touches it She describes how the longer one stays in the bedroom the more the wallpaper appears to mutate especially in the moonlight With no stimulus other than the wallpaper the pattern and designs become increasingly intriguing to the narrator She soon begins to see a figure in the design and eventually comes to believe that a woman is creeping on all fours behind the pattern Believing she must try to free the woman in the wallpaper the woman begins to strip the remaining paper off the wall After many moments of tension between John and his wife the story climaxes with the final day in the house On the last day of summer she locks herself in her room to strip the remains of the wallpaper When John arrives home she refuses to unlock the door When he returns with the key he finds her creeping around the room circling the walls and touching the wallpaper She excitedly exclaims I ve got out at last in spite of you and Jane causing her husband to faint as she continues to circle the room creeping over his inert body each time she passes it believing herself to have become the personification of the woman trapped behind the yellow wallpaper The Yellow Wallpaper by Charlotte Perkins Gilman
