Theology Future Evangelical Assertions Explorations:

Theology and the Future Trevor Cairney, David Starling, 2014-07-31 Theology was once queen of the sciences the integrating centre of Christendom's conceptual universe In our own time the very idea of systematic theology is frequently called into question derided as an arcane and superstitious pseudo discipline Even within the church it is commonly disregarded in favour of unreflective piety and pragmatism At the same time the southward shift in world Christianity's centre of gravity prompts crucial questions about the future form and content of theology Within this context Theology and the Future offers a case for the continuing viability of theology exploring how it might adapt to changing circumstances and discussing its implications for how we are to imagine and help shape our shared human future Beginning with the question of God this book explores what might be meant by the future of God and what its implications are for Christian theology Chapters follow on the location of theology in global Christianity the church and the academy and on its sources and method The second half of the book explores a wide variety of dimensions of the human future that theology might address and illuminate The essays bring together a mix of specialist theologians and interdisciplinary thinkers to support the assertion that there can be no more critical endeavor to the future than understanding God and all things in relationship to him

The Fear of the Lord Michael Allen, 2022-01-13 This volume examines what it means to proceed in the path of wisdom by beginning with fear of God that is mindfulness always and everywhere of God's being and presence Michael Allen describes the praxis of fearing the Lord how that posture of contemplative pursuit marks the theological task and defines our theological method in so doing it takes up the significant topics of divine revelation theological exegesis intellectual asceticism and retrieval re-orientation from a distinctly doctrinal perspective In each of these conversations doing theology in the presence of God functions as a consistent thread God is not mere object but truly functions as subject in the process of theological growth though God's presence and agency found rather than negate creaturely theological responsibility The Fear of the Lord: Essays on Theological Method explores some of the most central questions of contemporary theological method revelation Scripture theological interpretation retrieval intellectual asceticism scholastic method by asking in each and every case what it means to think fundamentally of the perfect and present God involved and active in these spheres

Theologians on Scripture Angus Paddison, 2016-11-03 The movement that is known as theological interpretation of Scripture reminds us that the reading and exegesis of Scripture is an indispensable part of the theologian's work not to be reserved to biblical scholars alone This insight that the reading of Scripture is a theological responsibility is always at risk of being eclipsed by the modern disciplinary divisions between biblical studies historical theology and systematic theology Intended as a contribution to the theological re-engagement with Scripture this book invites a range of high profile systematic and constructive theologians to reflect on the role that the reading and interpretation of Scripture plays in their theological work both professionally and more personally Spanning a cross section of theological perspectives contributors reflect on the role of tradition in their reading of Scripture the company they view as indispensable in their engagement with the text the place of historical critical study and biblical studies and the significance of their context The book will be valued by all those who care for the place of Scripture in theology and the life of the church as well as those who want an insight into the state of contemporary theology

Theologies of Retrieval Darren Sarisky, 2017-11-30 One of the most significant trends in academic theology today which emerges within Protestant Roman Catholic and Orthodox points of view is the growing interest in theologies of retrieval This mode of thinking puts a special stress upon subjecting classic theological texts to a close reading with a view toward using the resources that they provide to understand and address contemporary theological issues This volume offers an understanding of what theologies of retrieval are what their rationale is and what their strengths and weaknesses are The contributions provided by a distinguished team of theologians answer the important questions that existing work has raised expand on suggestions that have not yet been fully developed summarize ideas to highlight themes that are relevant to the topics of this volume and air new critiques that will spur further debate

The Gender Conversation Edwina Murphy, David Ian Starling, 2016-05-13 Conversations about gender both inside and outside the church can frequently degenerate into stale and rancorous disputes in which predictable arguments are traded back and forth or fade awkwardly away into the tense silences of mutual misunderstanding But the issue is an important one and calls for a better conversation than either of those alternatives In September 2015 Morling College hosted a one day symposium entitled The Gender Conversation A rich and diverse mix of contributors met to discuss issues of gender theology and Christian living within a shared framework of evangelical conviction Our aim in hosting the symposium was to deepen mutual understanding and respect highlight common ground clarify points of difference and unite us all in a quest to learn from the Scriptures and live in the light of the gospel This book brings together the papers presented at the symposium and the contributors responses to one another as a resource for further reflection and discussion

Theology and Modern Science James Wiseman, 2002-04-18 Among the multitude of issues addressed by authors in the burgeoning field of science and theology the most fundamental is that of divine action in the world How might believers best understand God as truly acting in the realms studied by the natural sciences Several specific questions arise in this context What implications do contemporary theories about the origins of the universe have for the doctrine of God as Creator of heaven and earth When cosmologists and biologists talk about the evolution not only of galaxies and solar systems but also of various forms of life on earth what does this say about the doctrine of divine providence If human beings evolved from earlier organisms as the vast majority of scientists believe what changes might this portend for the way we talk about the human soul and the way we either affirm or deny a spiritual element in other living beings If scientists are correct in predicting the eventual demise of the solar system how might these predictions affect the way we understand the traditional Judeo Christian hope for a new heaven and a new earth These are some of the questions that this book sets out to answer Though many of the issues are rooted in Christian theology the book addresses them in a broadly ecumenical way that will be both informative and thought provoking for anyone interested in the lively contemporary debate between theology and the natural sciences The Welsh Evangelicals Roger Lee Brown,1986 The Athenaeum ,1909 The Speaker ,1905 Daedalus ,1991 The Advance ,1906 Athenaeum and Literary Chronicle ,1909 The Athenaeum James Silk Buckingham,John Sterling,Frederick Denison Maurice,Henry Stebbing,Charles Wentworth Dilke,Thomas Kibble Hervey,William Hepworth Dixon,Norman Maccoll,Vernon Horace Rendall,John Middleton Murry,1909 Outlook Alfred Emanuel Smith,Francis Walton,1873 Anglican Theological Review ,1962 A New Testament bibliography for 1914 to 1917 inclusive by Frederick C Grant v 1 p 58 91 The Christian Union Henry Ward Beecher,1873 MultiCultural Review ,1997 Archiv Für Religionspsychologie ,2007 First Things ,1998 Heythrop Journal ,2002 A select book list appears quarterly
