The Penal System An Introduction:

The Penal System Michael Cavadino, James Dignan, 2007-09-17 the most authoritative and sophisticated textbook on the penal system of England and Wales It is essential reading for anyone who wishes to understand the causes character and consequences of the current penal crisis David Downes Mannheim Centre of Criminology London School of Economics What do you look for in a good textbook You would expect it to be as up to date as possible To be presented in a clear and accessible style To cover the issues comprehensively The Penal System delivers in all of these ways Mick Cavadino and Jim Dignan write with passion and authority which makes for an immensely readable book If there is such a thing as an ideal textbook then this is it George Mair Professor in Criminal Justice Liverpool John Moores University remains the most comprehensive up to date and readable text on the subject Yvonne Jewkes Reader in Criminology The Open University The perfect mix of the theoretical and the practical Cavadino and Dignan s updated book is the smartest cutting edge textbook available on the crucial subject of penology Shadd Maruna Queen s University Belfast the book remains an essential resource for students in criminology and criminal justice The authors are hugely effective in delivering a comprehensive guide to criminal justice issues in the 21st century Students will also find the self study guide to electronic sources immensely helpful Loraine Gelsthorpe University of Cambridge The revised and updated edition of this bestselling textbook is the most integrated and authoritative overview of the penal system available The Penal System provides a complete introduction to all aspects of punishment within the wider context of the criminal justice system It covers all the key theories and topics that a student of criminology or criminal justice needs to know about in their course The new edition features Coverage of the deepening penal crisis New material on restorative justice Discussion of recent theoretical developments An overview of changes in the prison and probation services NOMS Critical analysis of recent developments in criminal justice policy A glossary of key terms and abbreviations An extended self study guide to internet resources A companion website to keep students and teachers up to date with relevant legislation www.sagepub.co.uk/thepenalsystem Building on the strengths of the third edition The Penal System remains the most comprehensive analysis of theory research and policy in the area Praise for previous editions There are few must buy books for students of criminology and criminal justice but since its first edition in 1992 The Penal System An Introduction has been one of them For accuracy and scope as well as its remarkable combination of scholarly rigour and readability the book has no equal and it has only got better through successive editions David Smith Professor of Criminology Lancaster University For more than ten years Cavadino and Dignan have provided by far the best policy relevant and theoretically informed account of the British penal system This new edition has only the high standards of its predecessors to beat Cavadino and Dignan may not have managed to change the penal system for the better with their book but no one has delivered a more accessible or intelligent account of why it is so hard to reform Mike Nellis Professor of Criminal and Community Justice University of Strathclyde      The Penal System Michael Cavadino, James

Dignan, George Mair, Jamie Bennett, 2019-12-02 Now in its Sixth Edition this book remains the most comprehensive and authoritative on the penal system providing students with an incisive critical account of the punitive managerial and humanitarian approaches to criminal justice Fully updated to cover the most recent changes in the Criminal Justice System the new edition Outlines contemporary policy debates on sentencing staffing youth custody and overcrowding Explores growing inequalities in the criminal justice system including issues of race religion gender and sexuality with new content on faith and transgender prisoners Considers the impact of privatisation on the probation service Discusses the most recent debates around the parole process including high profile cases and attempts at reform The book is supported by online resources for lecturers and students including chapter PowerPoints sample syllabus summaries of key legislative acts bills and official reports a list of recommended further reading for each chapter and links to important Penal Agencies and Organisations Law Reform Organisations and other useful academic sites Essential reading for students of criminal justice and criminology studying penology punishments and the penal system

The Case for a Royal Commission on the Penal System Louis Blom-Cooper and Seán McConville, 2014-11-19 An initiative supported by leading political academic religious and professional figures and in association with Queen Mary University of London Virtually half a century has passed since the last Royal Commission on the Penal System was dissolved its work uncompleted Looking forwards six members of the Commission asserted that after some years a new Royal Commission would be of great public service As commentators writers and practitioners Sir Louis Blom Cooper QC and Professor Seán McConville have many decades of experience of penal policy and practice Some 20 years ago they urged the appointment of a new Royal Commission on the subject They have since pressed their case in letters to major newspapers and in earlier writings In this publication the momentum for which is supported by leading figures they make the case for a new Royal Commission that will be reflective effective and swift capable of building consensus and providing directions for generations They argue that penal policy is fragmented and frequently irrational contradictory counterproductive insubstantial and put together in a haphazard way The dynamics and pressures of party politics inevitably mean that penal policy often emerges in response to hard cases and headlines As this pamphlet claims broader and more considered views drawing on evidence and seeking to maximise social good cannot be delivered by politicians afraid of missing an opportunity to score party political points

Conversion and the Rehabilitation of the Penal System Andrew Skotnicki, 2019-03-01 The Cincinnati Penal Congress of 1870 ushered in the era of progressive penology the use of statistical and social scientific methodologies commitment to psychiatric and therapeutic interventions and a new innovation the reformatory as the locus for the application of these initiatives The prisoner was now seen as a specimen to be analyzed treated and properly socialized into the triumphal current of American social and economic life The Progressive rehabilitative initiatives succumbed in the 1970s to withering criticism from the proponents of equally futile strategies for addressing the crime problem retribution deterrence and selective incapacitation The early Christian community developed a methodology for correcting human error that featured the unprecedented belief that a period of time spent in a given penitential locale with the aid and encouragement of the community was sufficient in and of itself to heal the alienation and self loathing caused by sin and to lead an individual to full reincorporation into the community The correctional practice was based upon the conviction that cooperative sociability or conversion is possible regardless of the specific offense without any need to inflict suffering or to use the act of punishment as a warning to potential offenders or to undertake programmatic interventions into the lives of the incarcerated for the purpose of rehabilitating them Andrew Skotnicki contends that the modern practice of criminal detention is a protracted exercise in needless violence predicated upon two foundational errors The first is an inability to see the imprisoned as human beings fully capable of responding to an affirmative accompaniment rather than maltreatment and invasive forms of therapy The second is a pervasive dualism that constructs a barrier between detainees and those empowered to supervise rehabilitate and punish them In this book Skotnicki argues that the criminal justice system can only be rehabilitated by eliminating punishment and policies based upon deterrence rehabilitation and the incapacitation of the urban poor and returning to the original justification for the practice of confinement conversion
