PRICING PROBLEMS

Two stores are competing to sell the same toy. Use the information in the toy table to determine which store is giving the best deal.

No, no, no! This is all wrong! That beach ball should be 50% less than the sweater, which is supposed to be $25.00 cheaper than what is marked. The jeans is priced way too high. It is only double the price of the sweater's sale price. Hurry and the store before any customers come in!

SCHEDULING MADNESS

There are all the crazed hours on Black Friday. Fill in the boxes for when the stores open. Hint: The stores open on Thanksgiving. Read the conversations below to figure out when each store opens and fill in the table with opening times below.

The Toybox has been going to Black Friday shopping for years. Their response was, "Our products come straight off of Black Friday night which is the best time to get the greatest discounts." "Really, but we need to be at Best Buy to get the greatest discounts." "I'm not sure either."

"But what about the closest Target on Thanksgiving? They open on the same time as Best Buy, but with less products." "Yeah, I know that. However, the same isn't their specialty, and they seem to focus on TVs. Target does not sell the odds to get some crazy discounts we need though."

"Okay, keep focus of their Target's products, we will focus to Best Buy's products and their great deals on discounted."

"Sounds good. But on focus of their Best Buy's products, we need to be at Circuit City's because they have the best price in town!"
