with Perl and Prolog Pierre M. Nugues, 2014-08-06 The areas of natural language processing and computational linguistics have continued to grow in recent years driven by the demand to automatically process text and spoken data With the processing power and techniques now available research is scaling up from lab prototypes to real world proven applications This book teaches the principles of natural language processing first covering practical linguistics issues such as encoding and annotation schemes defining words tokens and parts of speech and morphology as well as key concepts in machine learning such as entropy regression and classification which are used throughout the book It then details the language processing functions involved including part of speech tagging using rules and stochastic techniques using Prolog to write phase structure grammars syntactic formalisms and parsing techniques semantics predicate logic and lexical semantics and analysis of discourse and applications in dialogue systems A key feature of the book is the author's hands on approach throughout with sample code in Prolog and Perl extensive exercises and a detailed introduction to Prolog The reader is supported with a companion website that contains teaching slides programs and additional material The second edition is a complete revision of the techniques exposed in the book to reflect advances in the field the author redesigned or updated all the chapters added two new ones and considerably expanded the sections on machine learning techniques
