This crash course will furnish you with the basic practical information you need to excel at readers advisory. RA for adults and teens. The question can you recommend a good book can be one of the most daunting you face notwithstanding the fact that recommender tools are ubiquitous. Often uncertainty arises because although librarians are called on to perform such services daily, readers advisory is a skill set in which most have no formal training. This guide will remedy that. For the Love of Reading Nancy L. Baumann, 2013-10-17 This insightful book reviews the current research on literacy programming, examines the latest standards for strengthening reading skills, and provides educators, families, and caregivers methods for building successful reading habits in and out of the classroom. Research indicates that children need more than classroom instruction to become proficient readers. Unfortunately, few parents realize how simple everyday practices can build a lifelong love of reading. Educators diligent with employing mandatory literacy standards may overlook families and support systems as tools for improving student performance. This book provides a comprehensive overview of the various methods of reading instruction, analyzing the pedagogy behind Sustained Silent Reading (SSR), the importance of reading aloud to children, and the necessity of working the home-school connection. For the Love of Reading: Guide to K-8 Reading Promotions provides strategies and tips for setting up successful reading environments for children, including having a well-stocked library collection, engaging students through book clubs, reading lists, and prepared book talks, and involving student and adult volunteers. Still Learning to Read Franki Sibberson, Karen Szymusiak, 2016 Foreword by Colby Sharp. In the decade since the first edition of Still Learning to Read was published the prevalence of testing and the Common Core State Standards have changed what is expected of both teachers and students. The new edition of Still Learning to Read focuses on the needs of students in grades 3-6 in all aspects of reading workshop including reading workshop, read aloud, classroom design, digital tools, fiction, nonfiction and close reading. The book stays true to its original beliefs of slowing down and knowing our readers but it also takes into account the sense of urgency that changing times and standards impose on classrooms. This edition examines current trends in literacy, includes a new section on intentional instructional planning and provides expanded examples of mini lessons and routines that promote deeper thinking about learning. It also includes a brand new chapter on scaffolding for reading nonfiction and showcases the authors latest thinking on close reading and text complexity. Online videos provide glimpses into classrooms as students make book choices, work in small groups and discuss their reading notebooks. Expanded and updated book lists, recommendations for digital tools, lesson cycles and sections specifically written for school leaders round out this foundational resource.

Understanding and Teaching Reading Comprehension Jane Oakhill, Kate Cain, Carsten Elbro, 2014. This indispensable handbook asks the question: what is comprehension? The authors consider comprehension of different units of language: understanding single words, sentences and connected prose and outline what readers and listeners have to do to successfully understand an extended text. This book also considers comprehension for different purposes: in particular reading for pleasure and reading to learn and explores how reader characteristics such as interest and motivation can influence the comprehension process. Different skills contribute to successful reading comprehension. These include word reading ability, vocabulary knowledge, syntactic skills, memory and discourse level skills such as the ability to make inferences, knowledge about text structure and metacognitive skills.
