Subversive Citizens Power Agency And Resistance In Public Services:

Care in Everyday Life Barnes, Marian, 2012-06-27 Care has been struggled for resisted and celebrated The failure to care in care services has been seen as a human rights problem and evidence of malaise in contemporary society But care has also been implicated in the oppression of disabled people and demoted in favour of choice in health and social care services In this bold wide ranging book Marian Barnes argues for care as an essential value in private lives and public policies She considers the importance of care to well being and social justice and applies insights from feminist care ethics to care work and care within personal relationships She also looks at stranger relationships how we relate to the places in which we live and the way in which public deliberation about social policy takes place This book will be vital reading for all those wanting to apply relational understandings of humanity to social policy and practice

Social Care, Service Users and User Involvement Peter Beresford, Sarah Carr, 2012-08-15 This book provides a definitive critical introduction to service user views and involvement It addresses both the theoretical and practical issues of service user involvement and includes initiatives on the impact and outcomes from involvement

Social Policies and Social Control Malcolm Harrison, Teela Sanders, 2014-05-28 Drawing on a wide array of policy domains and events this book provides an innovative account of social control and behaviourism within welfare systems and social policies and the implications for disadvantaged groups This accessible collection reviews the controls assumptions and persuasions applied to individuals and households and explores broader themes including how new behaviourism was consolidated during the New Labour and Cameron periods Social policy and social control offers timely engagements with key issues for researchers and policy makers and is relevant for students in social policy sociology socio legal studies social work and social care disability studies human geography politics and public policy and gender family and life course studies

Publics and Their Health Systems Ellen Stewart, 2016-04-08 Drawing on a detailed case study of Scotland's National Health Service this book argues that debates about citizen participation in health systems are disproportionately dominated by techniques of invited participation A system's eye perspective while often well intentioned has blinded us to other standpoints for understanding the complex relationship between publics and their health systems Publics and Their Health Systems takes a citizen's eye perspective exploring not only conventional invited participation but also the realms of representative democracy contentious protest politics and the micro level tactics used by individual citizens in their encounters with health services The book highlights more oppositional dynamics than those which characterise much invited participation and argues that understanding these is a crucial step towards a more inclusive and democratic health system

Juvenile Offending Thom Brooks, 2023-05-31 Tackling juvenile offending has become a key part of crime reduction strategies The articles selected for this volume examine juvenile offending from various critical perspectives and represent the work of the most influential international figures in the field The issues addressed include the different needs and perspectives of youth offenders whether offenders should be treated differently from others because of their age recommendations of policy changes identification of risk factors issues surrounding the sentencing of juvenile offenders and the relevance of restorative justice

Governmentality after Neoliberalism Mark Bevir, 2018-10-24 Neoliberalism has had a major impact on public policy but it has also perhaps obscured the equally dramatic spread of other policy tools based on significantly different forms of social science This book therefore explores the mixture of social technologies that have arisen since neoliberalism sometimes alongside and sometimes in conflict with it but generally as attempts to address problems created by the market reforms of a high neoliberalism These have included attempts to spread networks joining up and long term partnerships and to build state capacity social capital and resilient communities Thematically each chapter is defined by its engagement with governmentality specifically challenging governmentality theory to pay more attention to practices The book also develops a complex and variegated account of neoliberalism and its afterlife as chapters highlight the different ways in which a range of market mechanisms and other technologies now coexist in different policy areas Finally the book moves beyond abstract discussions of both governmentality and neoliberalism to concrete demonstrations of this approach in action This text will be of key interest to scholars and students of governance public policy governmentality theory and more broadly to British Politics social policy and sociology
