the Bauhaus Building The PCI Artists Juan José Gómez Gutiérrez, 2015-09-04 This book examines the artistic policies of the Italian Communist Party PCI during the early post war years 1944 1951 after the defeat of Fascism in Europe and the outbreak of the Cold War It brings together theoretical debates on artists political engagement and an extensive critical apparatus providing the reader with an historical framework for wider reflections on the relationship between art and politics After 1944 the PCI became the biggest Communist organisation in the West placing Italy in an ambiguous position regarding the other European countries Nevertheless the immediate strategy of the Communists was not revolution but liberation from Fascism and the establishment of a democratic system from which a genuine Italian path to Socialism could be found Taking Antonio Gramsci's notion of hegemony as a theoretical basis the Communists intended to generate a progressive social bloc capable of achieving wide consensus within civil society before taking power In order to accomplish this goal the collaboration from intellectuals was necessary The artistic policy of the Italian Communist Party was tailored to this end counting on representatives from all groups and tendencies of the time particularly those artists who rejected the imperialistic autarchic pseudo classicism that characterised most of Italian art throughout the Fascist years In the 1930s international Modernist and cosmopolitan European culture became an escape route to artists seeking a way out of the oppressive cultural atmosphere of inter war Italy However in the 1940s and 1950s many of these artists experienced a deep transformation in their work after they became politically involved with the PCI and were exposed to international Communist culture and Socialist Realism in particular This was conveyed not only by conscious changes in their subjects their style and their material means of expression but also in the public they addressed and in their own conception of themselves as artistic authors Hence at a time when the world was divided into two opposed camps each heavily inflected by ideological allegiance and supported by powerful propaganda apparatuses Italian Communist artists became the protagonists of a novel intellectual political project which pursued the synthesis between antagonistic cultural blocs Bauhaus 1919-1933 Hans Engels, Ulf Meyer, 2006 Focusing on buildings designed by Bauhaus members from 1919 to 1933 this book features some 65 famous and lesser known building projects in Germany Vienna Barcelona Prague and Budapest It offers commentary and site plans along with photographs Bauhaus Michael Siebenbrodt, Lutz Schöbe, 2015-09-15 The Bauhaus movement meaning the house of building developed in three German cities it began in Weimar between 1919 and 1925 then continued in Dessau from 1925 to 1932 and finally ended in 1932 1933 in Berlin Three leaders presided over the growth of the movement Walter Gropius from 1919 to 1928 Hannes Meyer from 1928 to 1930 and Ludwig Mies van der Rohe from 1930 to 1933 Founded by Gropius in the rather conservative city of Weimar the new capital of Germany which had just been defeated by the other European nations in the First World War the movement became a flamboyant response to this humiliation Combining new styles in architecture design and painting the Bauhaus aspired to be an expression of a generational utopia striving to free artists facing a society that remained conservative in spite of the revolutionary efforts of the post war period Using the most modern materials the Bauhaus was born out of the precepts of William Morris and the Arts and Crafts movement introducing new forms inspired by the most ordinary of objects into everyday life The shuttering of the center in Berlin by the Nazis in 1933 did not put an end to the movement since many of its members chose the path of exile and established themselves in the United States Although they all went in different directions artistically their work shared the same origin The most influential among the Bauhaus artists were Anni Albers Josef Albers Marianne Brandt Marcel Breuer Lyonel Feininger Ludwig Hilberseimer Paul Klee Wassily Kandisky and Lothar Schreyer Through a series of beautiful reproductions this work provides an overview of the Bauhaus era including the history influence and major figures of this revolutionary movement which turned everyday life into art
