Wanderlust A History Of Walking Solnit Rebecca Author Paperback 2001:

Wanderlust Rebecca Solnit, 2001-06-01 A passionate thought provoking exploration of walking as a political and cultural activity from the author of Orwell's Roses Drawing together many histories of anatomical evolution and city design of treadmills and labyrinths of walking clubs and sexual mores Rebecca Solnit creates a fascinating portrait of the range of possibilities presented by walking Arguing that the history of walking includes walking for pleasure as well as for political aesthetic and social meaning Solnit focuses on the walkers whose everyday and extreme acts have shaped our culture from philosophers to poets to mountaineers She profiles some of the most significant walkers in history and fiction from Wordsworth to Gary Snyder from Jane Austen's Elizabeth Bennet to Andre Breton's Nadja finding a profound relationship between walking and thinking and walking and culture Solnit argues for the necessity of preserving the time and space in which to walk in our ever more car dependent and accelerated world

Born to Walk Dan Rubinstein, 2015-04-01 The case for getting back on our feet The humble act of putting one foot in front of the other transcends age geography culture and class and is one of the most economical and environmentally responsible modes of transit Yet with our modern fixation on speed this healthy pedestrian activity has been largely left behind At a personal and professional crossroads writer editor and obsessive walker Dan Rubinstein travelled throughout the U S U K and Canada to walk with people who saw the act not only as a form of transportation and recreation but also as a path to a better world There are no magic bullet solutions to modern epidemics like obesity anxiety alienation and climate change But what if there is a simple way to take a step in the right direction Combining fascinating reportage eye opening research and Rubinstein's own discoveries Born to Walk explores how far this ancient habit can take us how much repair is within range and guarantees that you'll never again take walking for granted

Landscape and Subjectivity in the Work of Patrick Keiller, W.G. Sebald, and Iain Sinclair David Anderson, 2020-08-27 This book situates the film maker Patrick Keiller alongside the writers W G Sebald and Iain Sinclair as the three leading voices in English psychogeography offering new insights to key works including London The Rings of Saturn and Lights Out for the Territory Excavating social and political contexts while also providing plentiful close analysis it examines the cultivation of a distinctive affective mode or sensibility especially attuned to the cultural anxieties of the twentieth century's closing decades Landscape and Subjectivity explores motifs including essayism the reconciliation of creativity with market forces and the foregrounding of an often agonised or melancholic It asks whether the work can collectively be seen to constitute a critical theory of contemporary space and suggests that Keiller Sebald and Sinclair's contributions represent a highly significant moment in English culture's engagement with landscape environment and itself The book's analyses are fuelled by archival and topographical research and are responsive to various interdisciplinary contexts including the tradition of the English Journey the set of ideas associated with the spatial turn critical theory the so called heritage debate and more recent theorisation of the anthropocene

A Jurisprudence of Movement Olivia

Barr,2016-02-22 Law moves whether we notice or not Set amongst a spatial turn in the humanities and jurisprudence more specifically this book calls for a greater attention to legal movement in both its technical and material forms Despite various ways the spatial turn has been taken up in legal thought questions of law movement and its materialities are too often overlooked This book addresses this oversight and it does so through an attention to the materialities of legal movement Paying attention to how law moves across different colonial and contemporary spaces this book reveals there is a problem with common law's place Primarily set in the postcolonial context of Australia although ranging beyond this nationalised topography both spatially and temporally this book argues movement is fundamental to the very terms of common law's existence How then might we move well Explored through examples of walking and burial this book responds to the challenge of how to live with a contemporary form of colonial legal inheritance by arguing we must take seriously the challenge of living with law and think more carefully about its spatial productions and place making activities Unsettling place this book returns the question of movement to jurisprudence Searching for Sebald Lise Patt,Christel

Dillbohner,2007 W G Sebald's books are sui generis hybrids of fiction travelogue autobiography and historical expos in which a narrator both Sebald and not Sebald comments on the quick blossoming of natural wonders and the long deaths that come of human atrocities All his narratives are punctuated with images murky photographs architectural plans engravings paintings newspaper clippings inserted into the prose without captions and often without obvious connection to the words that surround them This important volume includes a rare 1993 interview called But the written word is not a true document A Conversation with W G Sebald about Photography and Literature in which Sebald talks exclusively about his use of photographs It contains some of Sebald's most illuminating and poetic remarks about the topic yet In it he discusses Barthes the photograph's appeal the childhood image of Kafka family photographs and even images he never used in his writings In addition Searching for Sebald positions Sebald within an art historical tradition that begins with the Surrealists continues through Joseph Beuys and blossoms in the recent work of Christian Boltanski and Gerhard Richter and tracks his continuing inspiration to artists such as Tacita Dean and Helen Mirra An international roster of artists and scholars unpacks the intricacies of his unique method Seventeen theoretical essays approach Sebald through the multiple filters of art history Krauss film studies Kluge cultural theory Benjamin psychoanalysis Freud and especially photographic history and theory Barthes Kracauer and 17 modern and contemporary art projects are read through a Sebaldian filter If Sebald's artistic output acts as a touchstone for new critical theory being written on post medium photographic practices Seaching for Sebald suggests a model for new investigations in the burgeoning field of visual studies Encountering The Book of Margery Kempe Laura Kalas,Laura Varnam,2021-11-30 This innovative critical volume brings the study of Margery Kempe into the twenty first century Structured around four categories of encounter textual internal external and performative the volume offers a capacious exploration of The Book of Margery Kempe characterised by multiple complementary and dissonant approaches It employs a multiplicity of scholarly and critical lenses including the intertextual history of medieval women s literary culture medical humanities history of science digital humanities literary criticism oral history the global Middle Ages archival research and creative re imagining Revealing several new discoveries about Margery Kempe and her Book in its global contexts and offering multiple ways of reading the Book in the modern world it will be an essential companion for years to come

Planting Letters and Weaving Lines Jonathan Homrighausen,2022-11-17 The illuminations of The Saint John s Bible have delighted many with their imaginative takes on Scripture But many struggle to appreciate the calligraphy more deeply than merely noting its beauty Does calligraphy mean something How is it beautiful This book written by a biblical scholar who has spent years working with this Bible shows how calligraphic art powerfully interplays visual form textual content and creative process Homrighausen proposes five lenses for this art form gardens weaving pilgrimage touching and enfleshing words Each of these lenses springs from the poetry of the Song of Songs its illuminations in The Saint John s Bible and medieval ways of understanding the scribe s craft While these metaphors for calligraphic art draw from this particular illuminated Bible this book is aimed at all lovers of calligraphy art and sacred text
