Subspace Methods For Pattern Recognition In Intelligent Environment Studies In Computational Intelligence:

Subspace Methods for Pattern Recognition in Intelligent Environment Yen-Wei Chen, Lakhmi C. Jain, 2014-04-07

This research book provides a comprehensive overview of the state of the art subspace learning methods for pattern recognition in intelligent environment. With the fast development of internet and computer technologies, the amount of available data is rapidly increasing in our daily life. How to extract core information or useful features is an important issue. Subspace methods are widely used for dimension reduction and feature extraction in pattern recognition. They transform a high dimensional data to a lower dimensional space subspace where most information is retained. The book covers a broad spectrum of subspace methods including linear, nonlinear, and multilinear subspace learning methods and applications. The applications include face alignment, face recognition, medical image analysis, remote sensing, image classification, traffic sign recognition, image clustering, super resolution, edge detection, multi view facial image synthesis. Intelligent Computing:

Image Processing Based Applications J. K. Mandal, Soumen Banerjee, 2020-06-08. This book features a collection of extended versions of papers presented at OPTRONIX 2019 held at the University of Engineering Management, Kolkata, India, on 18-20 March 2019. It includes research on the detection of skin disease, breast tumors, lung cancer, and rotten fruit based on intelligent image processing applications, intelligent computing, neuro-fuzzy applications, soil moisture prediction, intelligent encryption and authentication, as well as image analysis and image analytics. Computer Vision - ECCV 2002 Anders

Heyden, Gunnar Sparr, Mads Nielsen, Peter Johansen, 2003-08-02. Premiering in 1990 in Antibes, France, the European Conference on Computer Vision (ECCV) has been held biennially at venues all around Europe. These conferences have been very successful, making ECCV a major event to the computer vision community. ECCV 2002 was the seventh in the series. The privilege of organizing it was shared by three universities: The IT University of Copenhagen, the University of Copenhagen, and Lund University, with the conference venue in Copenhagen. These universities lie geographically close in the vivid Öresund region, which lies partly in Denmark and partly in Sweden, with the newly built bridge opened in summer 2000 crossing the sound that formerly divided the countries. We are very happy to report that this year's conference attracted more papers than ever before, with around 600 submissions. Still, together with the conference board, we decided to keep the tradition of holding ECCV as a single track conference. Each paper was anonymously refereed by three different reviewers. For the first time for ECCV, a system with area chairs was used. These met with the program chairs in Lund for two days in February 2002 to select what became 45 oral presentations and 181 posters. Also at this meeting, the selection was made without knowledge of the authors' identity. Springer Handbook of Computational Intelligence
